HUGE BRIDGE TO BE REBUILT, OFFICIAL SAYS

Engineer Declares Plans for Work Will Be Undertaken Immediately.

By The Associated Press

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 8—The elements won in the battle for the $6,400,000 Narrows bridge, and the floor of the world's third longest suspension span lay in Puget Sound today. But man and his science will try again.

Agitated and twisted by a wind of gale proportions, the colossal structure, which only four months ago was dedicated as a monument to engineering science, crumbled, then collapsed with a mighty roar yesterday into the white-crested waves of the sound.

There was no loss of human life. Two men — an engineer and a newspaper man—who were on the bridge when it began to twist violently, miraculously escaped, even as sections of the floor began hurtling into the waters 200 feet below.

Tubby, a cocker spaniel riding in the car with Leonard Coatsworth, Tacoma newspaperman, was not so fortunate. Coatsworth had to abandon his car to save his life. And the terrified Tubby nipped at the knuckles of Prof. F. B. Farquharson, the engineer, who attempted to release the dog. As Farquharson and Coatsworth made their separate and precarious ways to safety, the car and the spaniel fell into the sound.

Plan To Rebuild

A. F. Andrew, chief engineer of the Washington toll bridge authority, who announced that plans for rebuilding the bridge would be undertaken immediately, attributed the tragedy to "substitution of plate girders eight feet in depth for a truss design which had previously been planned." He explained:

"The solid metal expanses acted like a sail, catching the wind and swinging the bridge. We had planned to bore holes to allow the wind to pass through, but had not had time."

It was a race with the elements that the engineers lost. From its opening, the bridge had shown menacing signs of sway whenever a high wind whipped up. There was an up-and-down swing that gave motorists a sea-sick feeling.

Model Studied

A $20,000 model of the span consequently was constructed and was studied by engineers seeking a means of arresting the sway.

With the scrutiny of this model, engineers discovered the bridge was susceptible, in certain wind conditions, to a twisting motion which might mean the crash of the structure.

The state carried insurance of $5,200,000 on the bridge, plus insurance against loss of tolls. Lieut. Col. Lacey V. Murrow, state director of highways when the span was built, estimated it would cost about $3,000,000 to rebuild, if the superstructure should prove a total loss.

Andrew, in expressing his opinion as to the cause o. the collapse, said it was the first time the solid plate girders had been used in a bridge so long and narrow. The structure, reaching from the mainland outside of Tacoma to the

PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR ARMISTICE DAY

The annual public observance of Armistice day by Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion, will be conducted Monday at 11 a. m. on the south steps of the courthouse.

The short service will include brief messages by R. A. Todd, commander of the post, Lt. Col. T. E. Andrews, a past commander and a retired U. S. army man, and County Commander M. E. Baldwin. Mr. Baldwin will represent all posts of the county.

A seven-minute fanfare demonstration at 10:50 will be in charge of Sheriff Fred F. Miller. At the close of 11 the signal will be given to face the east and stand in silence for 30 seconds in tribute to the World war dead.

The brief talks will follow the invocation by L. M. Sherman, Bird-McGinnis post chaplain, and will be amplified by a public address system.

A salute to the dead will be fired by the Legion firing squad, of which Fred Berg is chairman. Taps will be sounded by Leonard Marotz, a bugler from the Harding high school band.

This year's fanfare demonstration will take the place of the usual machine gun demonstration by men of Co. D, 166th Infantry, who are now at Camp Shelby at Hattiesburg, Miss.

Members of the Legion and veterans of all wars have been asked to be at the Legion Dugout by 10:30 Monday morning. At 10:40 a parade will be formed, including the firing squad, the national and post flags and color guards, and the men will march to the courthouse.

Arrangements for the morning service were made by a committee headed by J. W. Llewellyn, past post commander and past county commander.

Elements Win Savage Battle with Bridge

The new $6,400,000 Narrows bridge at Tacoma, Wash., third longest single suspension span in the world, cracked up and fell into Puget sound after swaying crazily in a high wind. It had a center span of 2,800 foot. The bridge is shown here after the roadway had fallen 190 feet into the sound. ## REPORT MADE ON VOTE COUNT

Recheck Shows Rumors of a Change in Sheriff Race Result Unfounded.

Spurred by apparently widespread rumors that W. H. Willis (R) had been elected sheriff instead of James W. (Bill) Harruff (D), Marion county election officials today announced that virtually official tabulations show that Harruff was elected.

The latest tabulations, which officials said would be final except for disputed ballots, give Harruff 10,989 and Willis 10,679, making Harruff's majority 310.

The disputed ballots, which will be ruled on by the election board at a meeting tonight at 7, are not numerous enough to change the result of the sheriff race or any other, officials said.

The actual official totals of all Marion county voting will not be announced until the middle of next week. However, the totals announced today are what the official totals would be without the disputed ballots, it was reported.

Rumor Spreads Rapidly

The rumors concerning the election of Willis kept the telephone of C. G. Ritzler, deputy board clerk, ringing last night and today. Mr. Willis asked permission to inspect the ballots, with the prosecutor, but this was denied.

The ballots may be inspected only if an official recount is requested and the necessary fee posted, officials said.

The law provides that any voter in the county may ask for a recount within five days after the official count is completed. This will come some time next week. The person who asks the recount must post a $10 fee for each precinct which he wishes recounted. To recount the entire county would require a fee of $570, there being 57 precincts.

If the recount shows a variation of two per cent or more from the previous totals or if the result of the election is changed, then the fee is refunded.

Other Figures

Other virtually official totals announced today by the election board:

Representative — Thomas (R) 11,005; Almendinger (D) 10,182.

Commissioner (two highest elected) — Risch (R) 11,029; Kraner (D) 10,327; Weiss (D) 9,927; Cass (R) 9,925.

Prosecutor — Reed (R) 12,111; Ochs (D) 9,083.

Clerk — Smith (R) 11,099; Haberman (D) 10,125.

Recorder—Zachman (D) 11,362; Anderson (R) 9,921.

Treasurer—Hinklin (R) 11,043; Cole (D) 10,583.

Engineer — Johnson (R) 12,501; Tozzer (D) 9,341.

Coroner—Ruckman (D) 11,605, unopposed.

Common Pleas Judge—Young (D) 10,726; Smith (R) 9,433.

Probate Judge—Gast (R) 11,171; Jones (D) 9,237.

Congress — Petri (D) 11,429; Smith (R) 10,316.

The above totals were obtained in the usual manner of checking for official totals. Poll books and tally sheets for each precinct were rechecked carefully, paying special attention to the vote by-vote tallies. The totals were then readded. There were no great changes, officials said.

In checking for official counts, the ballots themselves are not recounted.

Expenses Reported

Meanwhile, the expense accounts of candidates are beginning to come in. The first three are:

Ruckman (D), for coroner $26.84; Thomas (R) for representative $165.59; Willis (R) for sheriff $190.88.

Professor Takes Pictures As Huge Bridge Collapses

(Prof. F. B. Farquharson was on the writhing Narrows bridge when its center span collapsed into Puget sound. He had been engaged in laboratory research for several months at the University of Washington in an attempt to correct the sway of the span. His account of the bridge collapse follows.)

* * *

By PROF. F. B. FARQUHARSON

By The Associated Press

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 8—I was the only person on the Narrows bridge when it collapsed. It wasn't bravery on my part. I didn't believe it would happen, and besides, I was anxious to get a motion picture of the unusual way the bridge was acting for my official records.

When I arrived about 9:45 a. m., the bridge was moving in a normal way, in the familiar rippling motion we were studying and seeking to correct.

About half an hour later it started a bilateral twisting motion in addition to its vertical waves. It had never done that before. There was considerable noise of stress and strain. As the motion increased in severity, lamp posts were jerked back and forth in a side motion and at least six snapped off while I was on the bridge.

I noticed one auto stalled in the middle of the span. Previously I had seen two men near the car. They were deathly sick. They stumbled and crawled to the Tacoma end.

Finds Dog in Car

I looked in the car and saw a dog in there. Then I went ashore to get some more films for my camera, and walked out of the careening span again.

About 10 minutes later, as the pitching, twisting and rolling increased, the dog occurred to me again. Since I love dogs, I staggered out to mid-span again and opened the door and tried to coax him out. The animal, sick and terrified, bit me on the knuckle.

Then I gave up the attempt, deciding that even if I succeeded in getting the dog out he'd probably fall overboard. So he stayed and plunged to death in his master's car.

A few minutes later I saw a side girder bulge out on the gig harbor side, due to a failure, but though the bridge was buckling up at an angle of 45 degrees the concrete didn't break up. Even then, I thought the bridge would be able to fight it out.

Looking toward the gig harbor end, I saw the suspenders—the vertical steel cables—snap off and a whole section of the bridge caved in.

Main Cable Tightens

The main cable over that part of the bridge, freed of its weight, tightened like a bow string, flinging the suspenders into the air like so many fish lines.

I realized the rest of the main span of the bridge was going so I started for the Tacoma end. Behind me, the rest of the bridge plunged into the sound.

By that time I was between the tower on the Tacoma side and the Tacoma shore. I thought I was out of danger, but suddenly the bridge dropped from under me. I fell and broke one of my cameras. I got up and started, only to have the bridge fall out from under me again.

The part of the bridge I was on had dropped fully 30 feet, due to the sudden shift of weight on the main cable.

It was one of those things that couldn't happen once in a thousand years, a combination of conditions that no one anticipated.

(Farquharson suffered only minor bruises and abrasions.)

FUGITIVE GIVES UP TO POLICE

Man Wanted Two Years for Pennsylvania Crimes Surrenders Here.

Sought for two years by Pennsylvania police on charges of armed robbery and breaking and entering, a transient yesterday gave himself up to Marion police department with the comment, "It's too tough keeping ahead of the law."

The man, who identified himself as Thomas J. Landau, 24, of Shamokin, Pa., walked into the police station about 4 p. m. yesterday and told Desk Sergeant L. E. Reardon he was a fugitive from Pennsylvania police. Sgt. Reardon immediately contacted Pennsylvania officials by police radio and verified Landau's story.

"He is wanted, Sgt. Reardon was told, in connection with a robbery of a filling station near Bloomburg, Pa., in October, 1938, and a house burglary near Bloomburg in January, 1939. Two other men also are charged in the cases, one of them already being in custody in Pennsylvania and the other still at large. Pennsylvania authorities said. Landau is being held at city prison pending arrival late today or tomorrow of Pennsylvania state police.

Sgt. Reardon quoted Landau as saying he had been "on the bum" for the last two years and just happened to be passing through Marion when he decided to surrender.

While cases of fugitives surrendering voluntarily to police here are rare, it is the second time in less than two months that an out-of-the-state fugitive has given himself up to Marion police. A few weeks ago a former member of Detroit's notorious "Purple Gang" surrendered as a parole violator from a Michigan penitentiary.

AT OHIO C. OF C. MEETING

Harold J. Grigsby, Chester C. Roberts and J. Malcolm Strelitz of the Marion-Reserve Power Co., James H. Watters of the Marion Steam Shovel Co. and A. R. Tennis, A. W. Baker and C. A. Crim of the Erie railroad are among the Marion men attending sessions of the annual convention of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, which opened yesterday at Cincinnati.

NAZIS CLAIM SHIP CONVOY IS DESTROYED

Berlin Declares Warship Batters Huge Group of British Vessels.

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, Nov. 8—German surface warships operating on Britain's vital north Atlantic supply lane from Canada and the United States were reported today by the high command to have "destroyed completely" a British convoy consisting of 86,000 tons of shipping.

The communique did not amplify the announcement, but informed quarters said that the convoy was made up of from 15 to 20 commercial vessels and that all the tonnage destroyed was commercial.

The convoy was said to have been heavily guarded by British warships.

(S O S messages from two British merchant vessels three days ago indicated that attack took place about midway between Ireland and Newfoundland. They reported that one of Germany's pocket battleships was shelling them.

Nazi Radio Account

(The German radio declared that the following conclusions could be drawn:

("In a false feeling of security, the leaders of the convoy had not reckoned with dangers from attacks in this part of the Atlantic ocean.

("Their confidence in the scope of British naval protection thus has been sorely destroyed."

(The broadcast said that the German success had "caused consternation in British admiralty circles." London dispatch, however, said that British authorities refused to comment on the German claim.)

Informed German quarters elatedly commented that Germany had dealt a hard blow to Britain's vital North Atlantic lifeline, supply route from Canada and the United States.

For the past two days German reports have told of a growing aerial offensive against British shipping, as a supplement to the counter-blockade by U-boats and surface raiders. Germans boasted that their planes had carried their recent attacks more than 300 miles west of Ireland into "regions where hitherto the enemy felt safe."

Planes Attack Convoy

Going back to yesterday's aerial assaults on shipping, the daily communique said that five bombers attacked a "big convoy" off the Thames estuary, badly damaging a 10,000-ton cruiser and causing a merchant ship of the same size to halt and show a heavy list.

In the same attack a 5,000-ton freighter was set afire and another of the same weight sunk after a heavy explosion, the communique said. Off the Norfolk

Strong G. O. P. Opposition To New Deal Acts Hinted

Republican Gains in Election Presage More Active Fight on Domestic Issues.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—Resurgent Republican strength reflected in the steadily growing totals of Tuesday's presidential vote presaged today some stiff political tussles over domestic issues in the months ahead.

As new tabulations swelled President Roosevelt's third term vote to greater portions and simultaneously raised Wendell L. Willkie's record Republican ballot total, it became increasingly clear that on many policies the Democratic administration in the next four years would face a more determined and more enthusiastic opposition than it has in the last eight.

Whether that legislative conflict would center entirely on controversies already familiar, or whether new elements might appear was still a matter of conjecture, pending declarations of intentions by the leaders of both parties.

President Roosevelt gave no indication in his campaign of contemplating a major program of new legislation for submission to the next congress in January.

Hints at Opposite

On the contrary, all his utterances tended to discount such expectations. In effect, he told the voters that his first term had been given to launching what he considered necessary reforms, his second term had been devoted to consolidating "advances," and his third term would be devoted to forwarding those accomplishments while helping the nation weather the great world "storm" now raging.

The first broad new statement of Republican plans to be made since the election will be given by Willkie Monday night in an address broadcast from New York. Announcing this last night after a conference with Chairman Joseph W. Martin Jr., and other party leaders, Willkie said that "in view of the fact that between 22,000,000 and 23,000,000 people voted for me I feel an obligation to state my position."

Latest tabulations of the election results meanwhile gave this picture of the standing of the two candidates with 120,444 voting units already counted out of 127,245:

President Roosevelt—carried 38 states with a total electoral vote of 449. His popular vote stood at 26,205,134.

Wendell L. Willkie—carried 10 states with a total electoral vote of 82. His popular vote stood at 21,787,102.

The Republican reaction to this total, the highest ever won by a Republican candidate, was summed up yesterday by Joseph S. Martin Jr., chairman of the party's national committee.

Announcing for "national unity" and for a "strong defense," he said "It is our purpose to take full advantage of the new and progress-

PAUL WISEMAN DIES OF BURNS IN BLAST

Accident at Ashland Fatal to Marion Youth.

Paul Wiseman, 22, of 350 Chester street, burned Monday in an explosion of the gasoline tank of an automobile near which he was working with an acetylene torch, died at 7 o'clock last night in City hospital at Ashland. He had been unconscious since the accident, which occurred in the Ashland yards of the Malo Iron & Coal Co., operated by Warren Malo, a former Marion resident.

Mr. Wiseman, formerly employed at the Marion Steam Shovel Co., went to Ashland to work several weeks ago. At the time of the accident he was using the acetylene torch to dismantle the framework of an automobile which was being salvaged. Mr. Malo and two other persons nearby were burned when they went to his aid.

He suffered third degree burns over seven-eighths of his body, the hospital reported.

Mr. Wiseman was born in Marion on Jan. 26, 1918 and attended the public schools here.

Surviving are his father, Pearl Wiseman of 350 Chester street, with whom he had made his home before going to Ashland; his mother, Mrs. Raymond Musser of Manheim, Pa., a brother, Carl Wiseman of Mansfield, 2 half-brother, Gilbert Hammond of 242 South Prospect street, and two step-brothers, Donald and Franklin Musser of Manheim.

Friends may call after 7 tonight at the M. H. Gunder & Sons funeral home on West Center street where the funeral will be conducted Monday at 2 p. m. Rev. D. N. Kelly of Wesley Methodist church will officiate. Burial will be in Marion cemetery.

ATHENS CLAIMS GAINS ALONG 100-MILE LINE

New Advances Made In Center Sector Where Huge Force Is Trapped.

By The Associated Press

Greek victories all along the 100-mile Italian war front were reported by Athens today, with Italy's "big push" in the northwest repulsed and other Italian columns thrown back in the center and northeast.

Reports from the ancient Hellenic capital said important gains were scored in the center sector, around Koritza, where 30,000 Italian troops were reported "trapped" under the shell-fire of Greek mountain guns.

Remnants of the Italian invasion columns in that area are now being encircled, the Athens reports said.

Dispatches from the nearby Yugoslav border said fighting in the northeast was intense, with heavy artillery action on both sides.

Big formations of Fascist bombing planes were reported attacking Greek troops east of the Koritz-Phlorina highway and pounding Greek mountain fortifications in the Pisoderi pass.

Fight Indian Style

Advices from the battle zone said the Greeks' "Indian style" guerilla tactics were making sharp inroads against the massed Italian mechanized onslaught.

Premier Mussolini's high command gave a seven-word description of the Fascist offensive on the west in the 12-day-old conflict:

"Operations are proceeding on the Epirus front," the official communique said tersely, omitting all mention of actual troop gains or losses.

The Greek high command said flatly that Italys mechanized forces, attempting to knife through the Metaxas defense line in a drive toward Ioannina, had been repulsed by Greek artillery and anti-tank guns.

"The situation is thoroughly satisfactory," a Greek government spokesman declared.

(Previously, the Greeks had acknowledged a "slight retreat," while the Italians said they had crossed the Kalamas river and left it behind in the thrust toward Ioannina.)

Fear Yugoslavia Next

In Istanbul, the semi-official Turkish radio said the "Italian failure" in Greece might open the way to axis action in Yugoslavia—presumably to strike at Salonika via Yugoslavia.

Reports from La Linea, Spain said heavy gunfire was heard in the Mediterranean shortly after 14 British men o'war—including a battleship, two cruisers, eight destroyers, two submarines and an aircraft carrier—left Gibraltar harbor.

Details of the action were not immediately forthcoming.

Coincidentally, the German radio quoted reports from Madrid that Britain is making an island of her Gibraltar citadel, blasting a three-mile canal between "the

FIRST DRAFT CALL ISSUED

Takes 75 in Ohio Including 6 from Crawford Co.; None Here.

Marion county was left out of the first Ohio draft call, issued today for 75 men who will report Nov. 19. The Associated Press reported from Columbus. The only nearby county affected by the call was Crawford, which is to supply three men each from boards 1 and 2.

The 75 men apparently are the first increment of the first Ohio quota of 900 men. Eventually each of Ohio's 330 draft boards will be required to supply three or four men to meet the first quota. Most boards will supply only three. Volunteers are expected to make up most of the 900, who are all expected to be called before the first of the year.

Of the first call of 75, Franklin county's (Columbus) first eight boards will supply three men each to report to Fort Hayes for a year's training. The other 51 will be obtained as follows, three from each board:

1, 2 and 3, Ashtabula county; 1 and 2, Crawford; 1, 2, 3 and 4, Cuyahoga; 9, 10, 11, Mahoning; 9 and 10, Stark; and 1, 2 and 4, Trumbull. All will report to Fort Hayes at Columbus Nov. 19.

More Volunteers Here

Four more volunteers were listed today for Marion county, making the total 20, too many for the first county quota for military service.

The new ones are:

Earl C. Earhart, 31, of 136 Union street, Board No. 2 (Wards 4, 5 and 6) Serial No. 1123. No Order Number assigned yet. He is the seventh volunteer for Board No. 2.

William Craven, under draft age of 21, of 251 Waterloo street, Board No. 1 (Wards 1, 2 and 3), Serial No. 2207, Order No. 1246-A. He is the third under-age volunteer in the county.

James McKidowney of 572 North State street, Board No. 1, Serial No. 1717. No Order Number yet.

Lawrence E. Boone of 592 North State street, Board No. 1, Serial No. 1721, No Order Number yet.

Board No. 1 still is far ahead of the other two in the county in the number of volunteers having 17. Another has appeared but is married and may withdraw. Board No. 2 has seven and Board No. 3 (rural) has five.

To Be Taken In Order

When the first call for Marion county men for service comes, the volunteers will be taken in the order in which they volunteered in each board. Indications are that only three or four will be taken from each board.

The task of assigning order numbers to all registrants is proceeding. Board No. 3 (rural) has completed its work and posted its list in the lobby of the post office. Board No. 1 (Wards 1, 2 and 3) expects to finish its list probably tomorrow and post it in the post office basement. Board No. 2 is a little more than half done with its list.

The rural board met last night with Dan L. Laderoche, Dwight Mahaffey and W. Hoover Brown, three of the five members present. They classified their five volunteers, putting them all in Class 1-A, the top. They will be called for physical examinations later. After the examinations, the board will make a final classification before the men are inducted into service.

21 KILLED AS PLANE CRASHES IN BRAZIL

Transport and Small Craft Collide in Mid-Air.

By The Associated Press

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 8—Twenty-one persons were killed today when a twin-engined transport plane of the Brazilian VASP line collided with a small advertising plane and fell into Botafogo bay.

The crash occurred as the big transport was taking off from Santos Dumont airdrome.

While it plunged into the water in full view of thousands along Rio De Janeiro's waterfront, the small plane plummeted into a house and was so battered that the bodies of its three occupants could not be removed immediately.

Of the 18 killed on the transport, three were Cuban crew members and 15 were passengers, including Ildefonso Cata, the Cuban minister to Brazil, and Bernardo Chagas, a Brazilian scientist well known in the United States.

A spokesman for the aviation authority said that despite reports

PROFIT TAKERS CHECK RALLY

Most Leaders Lose Tendency To Advance as Selling Increases.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 — Profit takers descended on the stock market in force today and most leaders lost their rallying verve of the preceding session.

Prices were slightly higher at the opening Selling then cropped up and the ticker tape was three minutes behind for a while as blocks of 1,000 to 5,000 shares changed hands. The pace then slowed and, near the fourth hour, declines of fractions to a point or so were plentiful.

While inflationary thinking was still widespread as the result of the treasury move to lift the national debt limit, brokers said, the treasury upsurge, biggest since the September war boom of 1939, inspired many traders to cash in their winnings.

U. S government securities mounted to new record tips and corporate loans improved Commodities were moderately higher.

In the stock division U S. Steel, Crucible and Pennsylvania hit new year's highs at the start, then backed away. Inclined to water also were Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Douglas Aircraft, Consolidated Edison, Texas Corp, New York Central, J. I. Case and Kennecott.

PROFIT TAKING PUTS CHECK ON GRAINS

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO Nov 8—Profit taking applied brakes to the wheat market's rise based on what some traders called a revival of inflationary gossip today.

Although gains of more than a cent were piled on top of yesterday's advance of more than 3 cents, the market reacted frequently as selling increased and at one stage leading contracts showed small net losses. During the session, however, wheat sold up to above 88 cents for December delivery, highest since last May, while several oats, soybeans and rye contracts reached new highs for the season. Flour business expanded slightly, with pit purchases credited to mills, but increased offerings of "free" wheat were reported at some terminals.

ORDINANCE NO. 4401

DECLARING THE NECESSITY TO IMPROVE HERMAN STREET BETWEEN THE WESTERN BOUNDARY LINE OF THE CLEVELAND, CINCINNATI, CHICAGO & ST. LOUIS RAILROAD BY CONSTRUCTING A CONCRETE CURB AND GUTTER.

BE IT ORDAINED by Council of the City of Marion, Ohio, three-fourths of the members elected thereto concurring herein:

SECTION I. That it is necessary to improve Herman Street in the following manner by placing concrete gutters and curbs on both sides of said street from the intersection of Davids Street to the C. C. & St. L. railroad, said improvement shall be made with the provision that material for gutters and curbs in said improvement shall be paid for by the property owners, and a special assessment therefor placed on the tax duplicate for collection of said cost, the labor shall be furnished by the Works Progress Administration, said improvement being in accordance with the petition of said property owners and

SECTION II. That the grade of said gutters and curbs on Herman Street shall be as shown by the Engineer's plans, profiles and specifications on file in the office of the Director of Public Service of the City of Marion, Ohio, which are hereby made a part of this Ordinance.

SECTION III. That the plans, specifications, estimates and profiles of the proposed improvement heretofore prepared by the Engineer and now on file in the office of the Director of Public Service of the City of Marion, Ohio, be, and the same are hereby approved

SECTION IV. That the whole cost of said improvement, less one fifteenth thereof shall be assessed by the percentage of the tax value thereof, upon all lots and lands bounding and abutting upon said improvement, which said lots and lands are hereby determined to be specially benefitted by said improvement, and the cost of said improvement shall include the expense of the preliminary and other surveys and of printing and publishing the notices, resolutions and ordinances required, and the serving of said notice the cost of construction together with interest on notes and bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of deferred assessments and of all other necessary expenditures

SECTION V. That the assessments so to be levied shall be paid in five annual installments, with interest on deferred payments at the same rate as shall be borne by the bonds to be issued in anticipation of the collection thereof provided that the owner of any property assessed may, at his option, pay such assessment in cash within thirty days after the passage of the assessment ordinance

SECTION VI. That the bonds of the City of Marion, Ohio, shall be issued in anticipation of the collection of assessments by installments and in an equal amount thereof.

SECTION VII. That the remainder of the entire cost of said improvement not specifically assessed together with the cost of any real estate or interest therein purchased or appropriated, and the costs and expenses of any appropriation proceedings therefor, and for damages awarded any owner of adjoining lands and interest thereon, and the cost and expenses of any such award shall be paid out of the general fund or by the issuance of bonds in the manner provided by law

SECTION VIII This Ordinance be and it is hereby declared to be an emergency measure, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace

New Lens Installed at Palace Adds To Clearness of Film Presentation

Latest scientific development for the pleasure of motion picture fans which delivers 25 per cent more light to the screen, has been added to the Palace theater projection room equipment.

Two lenses, purchased at a cost of $300, were put in use this week.

A demonstration yesterday noon, attended by several photographers, showed clearly the improvement of the new lens over the old. By switching reels of the feature picture from a machine using the old lens to one equipped with the new type, the difference in quality was evident instantly.

The new lenses, made by the Bausch & Lomb Optical Co. of Rochester, N. Y., use a process of treating lens surfaces which minimize reflection. Not only is there 25 per cent more light on the screen, but projected pictures gain in contrast and crispness, and shadow detail is not diluted by distributed light.

The glass surfaces of the lenses have an anti-reflection treatment which results in increased brightness of the projected images.

Another advantage over the old type is that the new lenses are sealed air-tight so that they need not be taken apart for cleaning and all surfaces are completely protected against dust, moisture and oil vapor.

In addition to the increase of brightness of the projected image, the surface treatment further reduces veiling glare and increases the contrast of the images, improving sharpness of definition.

The most noticeable effect in non-color films is the much sharper contrast between black and white. According to Manager George E. Planck, patrons probably will notice the effect more in color films, since the new lenses will give these films greater purity and brilliance of tones.

Only about 70 other theaters in the country have been able to obtain the new type lens to date, Mr. Planck said yesterday. The Palace theater order was placed three months ago, but because government orders for other items of the manufacturing must be given precedence, production has been slow.

FELLOWSHIP NIGHT IS HELD AT GALION

Church Presents Program To Celebrate Centennial.

Special to The Star

GALION, Nov. 8—A "fellowship night" was held by the congregation of the First Reformed church Thursday at the church. This was an informal social observance in connection with the three-week celebration of the Centennial year of the First Reformed church. The centennial of both the Emanuel and Peace Reformed churches, rural pastorates near Galion, also is being observed.

All-day services on Sunday, Nov. 10, will mark the climax of the celebration by all three churches. All three congregations will unite for the services at First Reformed here, Sunday. During the afternoon the young people will have a fellowship meeting to be followed with a super at 5:30 p. m., after which there will be a union Christian Endeavor meeting. Morning and evening services will have as guest preacher, Dr. Charles E. Schaeffer of Philadelphia, Pa. He is general secretary of the Board of Home Missions.

The social event, Thursday evening, opened with G. M. Badgley presiding. Following a few informal remarks by Mr. Badgley, a brief devotional service was conducted by Rev. R. R. Elliker, pastor of the local church.

A musical feature was the singing of several songs, including two old German numbers sung years ago by a quartet of the older members of the congregation who were active in choir work several years ago. This was composed of Mrs. Homer Rensch, Lilly Mueller, Theodore Poister and George Beach.

AVIATION BOOSTERS OFFICERS ELECTED

Harold Dickerson Again Selected as President.

Harold Dickerson of Merkle was reelected president of the Marion Aviation Boosters club Tuesday night at the annual reorganization meeting. Others elected were:

William Markley, vice president; Pete Fisher, secretary; Henry Miller of south of Marion, treasurer. Don J. Sansotta, reporter; and Leo Grindell of Richwood, chairman of the by-laws committee. All are from Marion unless otherwise noted. Ralph Jennings was named chairman of a committee to plan for a rabbit supper in early December.

The winter activities of the club were discussed and the program outlined. The annual pig roast will be one of the highlights.

The club also plans to stage a drive for members, seeking persons interested in aviation.

Last night's meeting was held in the Triangle Motorcycle club rooms on Olney avenue.

Richwood Ready for Americanism Program Tonight

Marion 40 et 8 Train To Take Part in Patriotic Parade.

Arrangements were completed today for an Americanism parade and program to be held at Richwood tonight under the sponsorship of Baccarat Post No. 40, American Legion, of Richwood.

The parade, in which some 500 war veterans and school children are expected to take part, will begin at the Richwood High school at 7:30 o'clock, circle through the business district and return to the high school. The program, immediately following, will be held in the high school auditorium. It is scheduled to begin at 8.

Taking part in the parade will be members of American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars posts from Union county and several nearby counties, Gold Star mothers, a V. F. W. float from Richwood, the locomotive and box car of Voiture No. 48, 40 et 8, of Marion, members of veteran auxiliary groups, Richwood school children and four musical units, the Richwood High school band, Raymond High school band, the Springfield V. of F. W. drum and bugle corps and an American Legion drum and bugle corps from Columbus.

R. C. Rehard, superintendent of the Richwood schools and commander of Baccarat post, will preside. Speakers will be H. H. Turner of Delaware, district patriotic instructor of the V. of F. W., and Floyd Hartpence of Westerville, vice commander of the Ohio department, American Legion. Short talks will be given by Mayor Charles H. Brown of Richwood and Peter DeWees of Columbus, director of the American Legion's "Boys State."

The Marion group will leave from the courthouse at 6:15.

Tradition Making

COLLAPSE of the anti-third term tradition doesn't mean that tradition has been erased from the subject of presidential tenure.

It signifies, rather, that a substitute tradition is now in the making. Perhaps the new tradition will call for unlimited tenure, though it seems more likely to take the form of the three-term precedent established by Mr. Roosevelt—in other words, an anti-fourth tradition.

The function of traditions is slighted, particularly by those who like to challenge them. They ignore the fact that government is held together by traditions, which in the last analysis are merely the inherited judgment of persons who have been over the same ground before, even though in different vehicles.

In some political campaign of the future, the breaking of the anti-third term tradition in 1940 will be cited by chapter and line to prove whatever it is the writers and orators of that occasion want to prove. Some of the same patriots who rebelled at taking counsel from the founding fathers will be quoted by posterity. The traditions they handed down will be treated with the same solemn respect that infuriated them in their own lifetimes. They should take steps to get their opinions in concise, quotable form so when their voices speak from the tomb they will be like claps of thunder, not like the mouthings of fuddy-duddies who lived back in the day when 70 miles an hour in an old-fashioned automobile was considered fast.

Chance for Japan To Imitate

JAPAN'S truculent attitude toward British-American protests on apparent pending moves for greater Japanese control over Indo-China is all that can be expected under the circumstances. Neither this country nor Britain is in a position to enforce maintenance of the status quo in the Asiatic French colony and the Japanese obviously will recognize no authority other than that which is backed up by armed might.

While the loyalties of the colonial government of Indo-China are torn between the Nazi-dominated regime at Vichy and that of Gen. deGaulle at London, Japan no doubt will take advantage of the rivalry. The Nipponese always have been good imitators of western customs and on numerous occasions their mimicry was of better quality than the original product. The quandary in which the French colonials find themselves should prove an admirable excuse for the exercise of this specialty.

Japanese-manufactured rumors of violence between the two factions of white men would give them a pretext for intervention on behalf of their blood-brothers. The wily orientals in Tokyo may note that the plan has worked frequently for Adolf Hitler—why not for Japan?

Decentralized Politics

PURITY in politics, the game invented by Sen. Hatch, has turned out to be more fun than anything. Later on, when the congressional committees swing into action to tabulate the score, the United States will know who won the prize, which is a cake of that almost pure soap.

Pending that disclosure, some of the high spots will bear unofficial scrutiny. Highest of them seems to be the Hatch law's decentralization of politics. That's what the master minds were afraid of. The game has been given back to the amateurs, like football at the University of Pittsburgh. Instead of a handful of moguls running the whole campaign from one point, responsibility now is scattered.

Now organizations sprang up like wildflowers and will disappear just as rapidly. They were masters of their own destiny, including their own funds, while they lasted; more important than anything else, they were newcomers to politics, for the most part.

This was in marked contrast with the not so good old days, when frost-bitten professionals wanted nothing from greenhorns but a check drawn in three figures or more. In those days, professionals did all the work and took all the credit, but under the Hatch code of purity the pros must share and share alike with all the former Bull Moosers for Winterbottom clubs which gave them a helping hand.

In short, it begins to be plain why the boys in congress thought the Hatch act was going to be a fate far worse than death and finally accepted it, when they couldn't stall it off any longer, with crossed fingers. One more election like 1940 and there will be so many independent organizations covering the ground that there won't be enough voters to accommodate them all.

News Behind the News

Faster Pace for New Deal Policies Expected To Result from Election.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—Double-quickening of the established tempo of the New Deal is the only immediate likely result of the election.

Only new rabbit whose ears are discernible in Roosevelt's productive silk hat is a new spend-lend program with defense emphasis. It will include some new billions for defense roads, defense industrial housing, and probably also some governmental electrical power expansion (screen grid, rural electrification, St. Lawrence). The idea was worked up by economists borrowed by the defense commission from other New Deal departments and has been held in abeyance for some weeks so it would not become involved in the campaign.

Paul Mallon

As for the rest of the New Deal bunnies already running, the only intention apparent at this time is to push them along faster (wage hours, social security, labor board, etc.)

Reorganization of the war department is coming. Civilian business men will be drafted for key procurement jobs. The White House entourage is complaining that the training of army officers leaves them without business skill vitally necessary in acceleration of the defense program.

Spur for Defense

A sharp spur will be dug into the national defense commission. The priorities board is due to receive orders requiring a gruffer attitude toward businesses that show even the slightest inclination toward waywardness. Vigorous enforcement may replace the conciliation which was practiced during the campaign.

Changes in the cabinet (Stimson, Walker and Perkins may go) are judged probable although no one claims direct word from Roosevelt on the subject. Administration of the wage hour law which has been tempered with unusual moderation will be hardened.

Vindictiveness against those who opposed the third term (including some sections of the press) is naturally being expressed by the underlings zealots in Mr. Roosevelt's family, but not by any near the top. Wise men in Mr. Roosevelt's thinking department are seeking aims they can recommend to promote the genuine national coherence necessary in time of grave international strain.

Effects on Business

The major effects that may fall on business, however, will develop in congress. The spirit of open resistance among Mr. Roosevelt's southern Democratic leaders will undoubtedly be dissipated. As a result the Walter-Logan bill is probably dead. The LaFollette civil liberties bill affecting employer-employe relationships is very likely to pass. The move to amend and correct the labor board will not follow the line of the Smith amendments, but will take whatever form Mr. Roosevelt wants. The Neely mine inspection bill will no doubt be pushed through by White House pressure to pay off the United Mine Workers for failing to follow John Lewis. Further expansion of the social security benefit payments program seems in the cards.

But the preponderant force of rearmament will continue to expand business generally through the early part of the third term. What will be done when the shot wears off is not yet apparent.

Foreign Policy Outlook

Stronger developments in foreign policy may be anticipated, but not right away. The development of far eastern policy will be on the automatic basis of balancing whatever strong talk or action Japan tries to offer. The scrap iron embargo talk stopped the last flurry of Japanese blustering. The scales are now considered even. If the Japanese tip them again, further action will follow.

Help to Britain was not held back during the campaign. Just the oposite. Mr. Roosevelt was looking around for further things he could give Britain before election. The bombers, therefore, are not likely to be released until war department opposition is overcome. Legal restrictions against furnishing credit to Britain will undoubtedly be recommended for repeal by congress, probably some time next year, although no defense decision has yet been made.

Immediate effects of the election on government policy therefor seem likely to be less drastic than some fearful anticipations expressed during the campaign.

Hardest Workers

LaGuardia did more work than anyone in the campaign except Willkie. He was the effective White House offset to the C.I.O. bolter, John Lewis. His reward most Roosevelt agents are assuming, will be the secretaryship of war.

Hull will be drafted to retain his post despite his intention to retire in January.

Election Mandates

No mandates were visible to the New Dealers in the election results this time, except possibly a negative demand from the farm belt for improvement of the Wallace program. Willkie's successful showing in farm states was due, in the New Deal viewpoint, to the failure of the Wallace formula to remedy the effects of drouth and over-abundance. Unquestionably some new antidotes will be worked up.

As for the contrary tide of Roosevelt votes elsewhere, the New Dealers are interpreting it mainly as an outpouring of worker approval. Extent of their majorities in industrial areas really surprised them. They had been deceived by the exceptional number of doubtful voters who showed up in the polls right to the end.

Presidential Oddities

Interesting Facts About the Nation's Chiefs and Their Careers

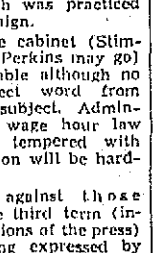
By JACK STINNETT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—Now that you are looking back on the presidential campaign and sifting out the oddities for your memory book, see if you can find things to match these presidential oddities from ancient history:



Jack Stinnett

John Scott Harrison was both father and son of Presidents, the father of Benjamin and the son of William Henry ... Martin Van Buren was the first of the presidents who was not born a British subject... Virginia still is the "mother of Presidents." Her native sons who have risen to the highest office are Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, William Henry Harrison, Taylor, Tyler and Wilson. ...Mrs. Victoria Claflin Woohull was nominated for the presidency in 1872....Almost one-third of the men who have been elected chief executives have been slaveholders: Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Jackson, Tyler, Polk, Taylor, Johnson and Grant.

William Henry Harrison and Zachary Taylor are the only presidents who have died in the White House....The elections of Jefferson, John Quincy Adams and Rutherford B. Hayes all were decided by congress....Lincoln, the anti-slavery president, was born in Dixie (what is now Larue county, Kentucky) while his chief political opponent, Stephen A. Douglas, was a son of the north, born in Vermont.

The Shortest Term

William Henry Harrison was president exactly one month...In Missouri, they claim that David R. Atchison, senator from that state, should be listed as one of the Presidents; Polk's term expired March 3 and Zachary Taylor was not inaugurated until March 5, 1849; there was no vice president and as president pro tem of the senate, Atchison was president but he was not sworn in...Washington received only $25,000 salary for his entire first term, after which the salary was raised to $25,000 a year, which is the same amount as the present presidential expense fund, the salary having been raised to $75,000.

President Roosevelt's first term was 41 days shorter than that of any other president since Washington who served a full term. Because of the "Lame Duck" amendment which shoved the inauguration back from March 4 to January 20....In Monroe's second term, he received all but one of the votes of the electoral college...Neither Lincoln nor Wilson, in their fist terms, received a majority of the popular vote of the country.

Taft Got Two States

President Johnson, in his early days, was an illiterate tailor—William Howard Taft carried only two states when he ran against Wilson and Theodore Roosevelt, Utah and Vermont....William Rufus King, Franklin Pierce's vice president, was the only one ever to take the oath of office outside the United States and the only vice president who never was in Washington after his election; he took the oath of office in Cuba, where he had gone for his health and died six weeks later after returning to his Alabama plantation.

Both North and South Carolina claim the birth place of Andrew Jackson....The first national party convention wasn't held until 1831, when the Anti-Masonic party met in Baltimore...Vice-presidents originally were the men who received the second largest number of votes for President...Only since June, 1924, has an Indian been eligible for the presidency .... Elbridge Gerry, who, as Madison's vice president presided over the senate, resigned the vice presidency to become a senator.

Although it was organized in 1900 and has had a presidential nominee in every election since, the Socialist party has had only two nominees: Eugene V. Debs and Norman Thomas.

HIS ROOST IS SHAKING

On The Record

Difficult Task Seen Awaiting President Following Election.

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

AS these lines were written I did not know who the next president of the United States would be. But one thing I do know, and it is something we should keep very vividly in our minds; He is not a man to be envied. He is a man called to office in deeply troubled times, in the greatest crisis in the history of free men, in a world that is in the midst of a profound revolution, a revolution not only being fought out between the armed forces of nations, but inside all human societies and even inside every thoughtful and sensitive individual's mind and soul. We are at the end of an epoch and the design for the future has not yet taken clear shape—it has not yet, I believe, taken shape anywhere, even in the revolutionized countries.

Dorothy Thompson

The realization of this manifested itself in many ways in this campaign. Tradition was broken with on two counts in the selection of the candidates. The nomination of the President for a third term broke one tradition; the nomination of Mr. Willkie broke another. For never before in the history of the United States has a man been chosen as a candidate for the office of chief executive of the nation who has been without any previous record of public service.

Party System Cracked

Also, the party system was cracked by man fissures in this campaign. It will never be put together again in the same pattern. The Roosevelt Democrats and the Willkie Republicans conducted the two campaigns, and personalities previously unknown to politics played a more important role than many well-known political figures. Innumerable persons changed sides.

On the surface, there has been a clearer class cleavage in this campaign than in any in American history. And, definitely, the offensive this time was taken by what we roughly call the "right" and associate with the well-to-do, rather than by the "left," which we associate with the poorer people. And this new "right," whose most militant elements were also, like the more militant elements of the "left," amateurs of politics, were in no previous sense conservative. They were aggressive, militant, bold, and addressed themselves not to their own class, but to the widest possible popular following. For the first time in American history, as far as I know it, they took the aggressive revolutionary technique away from the left and used it themselves, no longer depending upon the quiet, always telling pressure of great economic power. They acted radically. In this campaign it was the right who used the radical method, and not the left.

Such a cleavage can ring the death knell of a democracy. It can so widen the crack in the Liberty Bell that it springs in two and silences its tongue forever. For however the election may have turned out when these words are printed, it seems today that it will have been very close. The next president, therefore, will have to govern a country in which nearly half of the people have voted against him. And he will have to govern it in such a manner that this cleavage will be healed and a synthesis reached between the two parts. He will have to be wise and good beyond even Lincoln—for Lincoln, in his day, could not keep the two parts from an intransigent stand that was finally resolved in the blood of brothers.

In this internal cleavage lies the greatest danger of external war. For, if we are internally divided we will be attacked, or an artificial unity, an imposed unity, may be sought, either by over-emphasizing the external danger as the only means of enforcing discipline or by undertaking an adventure for the purpose of enforcing discipline. But the enforcement of unity and discipline is not democracy. It is fascism.

Yet there are very hopeful things in our situation, if we are willing to consider them honestly, and think clearly and feel kindly.

This cleavage does not occur in a moment of vast unemployment, poverty and economic depression. Now that the campaign is over, we can all acknowledge the truth, that, whoever is to blame or whoever is to be credited for this or for that, the country is in excellent shape. The solid center is sound—economically speaking. The maladjustments are on the periphery. The conflict amongst us is strangely dreamlike and unreal. It is psychological rather than material, except for the unrehabilitated periphery. But let no one say that psychological disturbances are not real. They are as real as bread.

The War a Year Ago

NOV. 8, 1939
By The United Press

Adolph Hitler left a beer garden Hall in Munich, where he had delivered a speech, 15 minutes before a bomb exploded, killing six and wounding 60 persons.

In the speech, Hitler said it was clear that Great Britain wanted the war and, as such, Germany would speak to her "in language they will probably best understand." He inferred the German people were ready for a five-year war.

Winston Churchill told the House of Commons that Britain would conquer by sea warfare.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, Nov. 8, 1930.

John E. Ruth was reelected master of United grange.

Twins, a boy and a girl, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd D. Rhoads of Pearl street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McClurg and son Billy and Mrs. W. C. McCann of Portsmouth were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Vogt of Sheridan road.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Jacobs of Forest Lawn boulevard gave a dinner in honor of Cleon Williams, who was to leave soon on a business trip to South America.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Monday, Nov. 8, 1920.

Marshal Foch, generalissimo of the Allied forces, in a sensational interview with the Matin in Paris, denounced the Versailles treaty as a "weak peace." He revealed that the relations between former Premier Clemenceau and himself were badly strained during the dark days of the war. "France has failed to gain the assurances which our victories justified," Marshal Foch was quoted as saying. "Personally, I was in favor of and demanded military occupation of the Rhine until the peace treaty was executed." After the treaty had been signed, the marshal said, he told friends that France would receive only a "worthless check."

President-elect Harding was receiving enthusiastic ovations from crowds in Texas where he had gone for a vacation of several weeks before returning to Marion to take up the work of arranging for assuming his duties as head of the government.

Steps were being taken by a group of Marion men to organize a marching club to take part in the inauguration of Mr. Harding as president on March 4.

Mrs. C. E. Bower was hostess to the Searchlight club at her home on South Main street.

The Delphian club was entertained by Mrs. W. A. Marble at her home on Willow street.

THE best lady political speaker w heard in a long time popped up o other night at a Willkie rally in Ne She was presented to the meeting a Boothe, under which name she is fam playwright and the author of "Europe Spring," a new book which we are told well. In private life she is the wife of Henry R. Luce, magazine publisher.

We claim to be something of an authority on lady political speakers. Man and boy, we have been listening to them since Hickory Slim was a two year old. We suppose we have given ear to as many lady political speakers as any citizen now alive. We have seen (or rather heard) them decline from superb oratorical heights to vague echoes.

We go back on the lady political speakers to the early days of suffrage in Colorado when the ladies ways on their toes scrapping for their rights and when they had independ thought and action that gave us hope would one day be the mightiest single American politics. We could not fore they were going to settle down to being licans and Democrats.

Those days produced some great among the ladies. Speakers born of as you might say, schooled and seas political craft from their own fight a of their strength. They were speakers w get on their feet and spout extempor and with such eloquence and logic gents took pleasure in listening. Yes were giantesses in those days, considere as political speakers.

THE breed died out. We saw those w after them accepting the nudging gents into the most perfunctory placing meetings with a dumb docility that m made their maws turn over in their We heard them reduced to purely plati proclamations when permitted to take form. They became, and remain, soundin of what the gents are saying. We weep generation of lady political speakers.

This Clare Boothe reminds us of time ladies in that she does not disdain vitriol in seasoning her remarks, vit not infrequently the very essence of the of the greatest of the lady speakers bygone day for which we mourn. The scorch the hides off their political enem occasion demanded. Probably without they put in their remarks the ladies wou have won equal suffrage in the first

Certainly, they would not have won the namy-pambiness that is characte the utterances of most of the lady spe today who have any speaking ability The old time ladies were militant. The Boothe lady is 37, according t Who, blond, quite pretty and be groomed. This is never a knock to speaker at a political meeting, especia the gents. That is where the old tim were smart. They knew that the gents like to gaze upon dowdy dames, m listen to them, so they always showed u meetings dressed to kill. Even if they pretty their apparel kept them from be sores.

THE most important thing about Clar as a lady political speaker, however fact that the other ladies do not seem her. We watched carefully to see. T tened to her and did not whisper to other as she was talking, always the i of the old zing.

It has been our experience that s when a lady speaker is entrancing to other ladies get mad at her which detr her value as a speaker. When they d sent her, she is perfect. THE first of a series of luncheon card parties planned by women of the Marion Country club for the fall and winter months was held yesterday at the club. Luncheon covers were laid for 20 and later in bridge the awards were won by Mrs. Howard R. Stoll and Mrs. Millard Hunt. On the hostess committee were Mrs. Robert C. Owens and Mrs. Kenneth M. Bower, co-chairman, Mrs. W. A. Dennis, Mrs. Mabel C. Owens and Mrs. E. H. Buettin. The next meeting will be Dec. 5, instead of in two weeks, because of Thanksgiving. Hostesses will be Mrs. Millard Hunt, chairman, Mrs. Fillmore Young, Mrs. Howard R. Stoll, Mrs. C. O. Brown and Mrs. J. T. Carliss.

MRS. W. C. BEATTY of South Vine street opened her home to members of the Quest club for a program meeting last evening. For roll call the members took some small treasured antique and these were discussed by Mrs. Beatty. For the program hour Mrs. Beatty talked on "Antiques," and she also showed the group a number of articles. Later the club members were shown through the rooms which are rich in historical lore.

A 1 O'CLOCK luncheon preceded a rehearsal meeting of the Federation Chorus yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ray Reidenbaugh on Mt. Vernon avenue. Arrangements were in charge of the social committee, Mrs. Paul Kyle, chairman, Mrs. Charles Sechrist and Mrs. Thomas Kerrigan.

Mrs. Elmer Persinger won honors for high score when Mrs. Alva Gantt entertained at two tables of bridge last evening at her home on Sharpless court. Mrs. Harold Lill was consoled.

Mrs. Herman Rinehart was enrolled as a member and Mrs. Walter Mayes was given a handkerchief shower in observance of her birthday anniversary at the Delta Game-a Euchre club meeting yesterday afternoon with Mrs. George McGuire of Henry street. Mrs. Ralph Kemmerly won the award for high score and the hostess won second honors and a mystery award. Mrs. Chester McJunkin was consoled.

Papers on Cranbrook foundation, a suburb of Detroit, and on "Early Genre Painters" were given by Mrs. Everett Grigsby and Mrs. E. H. Cowan at a meeting last evening of the Art club with Mrs. Frank R. Mann of South Vine street.

Following Mrs. Grigsby's paper on the Cranbrook foundation, a community for needy artists, color motion pictures of life in the community were shown by James E. Frew, a guest of the club.

Date of the next meeting, which will be at the home of Miss Philomen Gregg of Delaware avenue, was changed to Nov. 28.

A potluck noon dinner on Nov. 20 at the home of Mrs. Mona George of Silver street was arranged at the F. C. club meeting yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Lillian Graff of Scranton avenue. Mrs. Betty Whittington and daughters Roxie Ann and Beverly Anna were guests.

Contests were won by Mrs. Betty Howell and Mrs. Mary Gilmore. Readings were given by Mrs. George, Mrs. Lillie Hartley, Mrs. Gilmore and Miss Olive Hartley. Miss Hartley also won a mystery package. Mrs. Howell assisted the hostess in serving refreshments.

Mrs. Dow Newell and Mrs. Russell Barklow were guests of the Cinderella club at a meeting last evening with Mrs. Harold Coffey of West Fairground street. Mrs. Barklow won the guest award in euchre, high club honors and the lone hand award going to Mrs. Walter Miller. Mrs. Howard Rizor won second honors and Mrs. Howard Travis the galloping award. Mrs. Chester Henry was consoled. The club's annual Christmas party and gift exchange will be held Dec. 19 at Ringer's inn on the Prospect road.

The Fortnightly Study club welcomed Mrs. L. L. Foos and Mrs. Earl Stansberry as new members at a meeting yesterday afternoon with Mrs. William Spath of 318 East Forming street.

Following devotions by the hostess a biography of Amy Lowell was read by Mrs. Clay Wilson. A poem by Miss Lowell was read by Mrs. Spath.

Piano pupils of Miss Alfredu Horn will be presented in a public recital Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at Harden's music store on South Main street.

The Loyal Nine club members were entertained last evening by Mrs. O. H. Gearhiser of Bellefontaine avenue. Bunco honors were won by Mrs. George Seebach and Mrs. Russell McEvoy. The lunch was in keeping with the Thanksgiving season.

Contest honors were won by Mrs. Emma Porter, Mrs. Louise Griffith, Mrs. Zelma Everett and Mrs. Jessie Beeman at the Sunflower club meeting last evening with Mrs. Louise Fogle of the Green Camp road. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Beeman, Mrs. Etta Bechtle and Mrs. Margaret Zachman.

Miss Edith Keeler, art instructor in the public schools, was guest speaker at a meeting of Marion Circle, Child Conservation League, yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hal E. Barringer of 320 Clover avenue. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Carl Danner, Mrs. Fred Morris and Mrs. Kenneth Fields. Miss Keeler talked on "Development of Children in Art." Plans were completed for a meeting of the Marion Federation of the Child Conservation league Thursday evening, Nov. 14, at Epworth Methodist church, for which the Marion circle members will be hostesses. The meeting will be a panel discussion on "Rheumatic Fever in Children," by Drs. Frederick G. Smith, D. W. Brickley jr., F. W. Rea and J. W. Bull. Mrs. Edward T. Huber reported on the Girl Scout activities, Mrs. Fred G. Wadsworth on the sale of articles made by the blind and Mrs. W. E. Orcutt announced the drive for shoes.

Mrs. Harold Van Houten was hostess to the Child Research club last evening at her home on Blaine avenue. Plans were made to attend a meeting of the Marion Federation of the Child Conservation league Nov. 14. A program included a paper on "Good Routine for Pre-School Children" by Mrs. Stephen Kuhner. This was followed by a round table discussion. In a contest the award was won by Mrs. Kenneth Price.

Mrs. Marie Collins of North State street was hostess to the Imperial club yesterday afternoon. Four tables were filled for euchre, first honors going to Mrs. Elsie Carey, second and lone hand to Mrs. Gladys Saunders, and third to Mrs. Ruth McEldowney. Mrs. Altha Richie was consoled. Mrs. Edith Collins, Mrs. Lois Coder and Mrs. Esther Byrd were guests, and Mrs. Collins was enrolled as a new member.

Mrs. B. R. Metz was chosen president and reporter and Miss Mary Ruth Graham secretary-treasurer when the Shy One Pinochle club was organized last evening at the home of Mrs. Marion Grover on Silver street. First honors were won by Mrs. Orville Grover and second by Mrs. Frank Fulk. The former assisted the hostess in serving. Members of the club are the officers and Mrs. Frank Fulk, Mrs. J. H. Sheehe, Mrs. D. Kenyon, Mrs. Orville Grover, Mrs. Marion Grover, Mrs. Ralph Heath and Mrs. D. R. Metz. Mrs. R. C. Graham was a guest.

Contributions of $3 to the nutrition fund and $5 to the Marion County Red Cross chapter's roll call were made at a meeting of Alpha chapter of the Gradale sorority Wednesday evening at the Y. Plans also were made for a benefit picture show the latter part of this month. Mrs. Clara Campbell the new chapter sponsor was present. A program hour included talks on famous women by the following members: Mrs. Richard Meister, "Marie Antoinette;" Miss Ruth Washburn, "Florence Nightingale;" Miss Mary Strayer, "Frances Willard;" Miss Catherine Watson, "Susan B. Anthony;" Mrs. Robert Keller, "Harriet Beecher Stowe;" Miss Mary Jane Reamsnyder, "Jane Addams;" Miss Laurel Hanley, "Marie Curie;" Miss Mary Jo Williams, "Madame Schumann-Heink." A social meeting was planned for Nov. 20.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Temple of 633 East George street entertained a group of friends Wednesday evening. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Temple, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Andrews and grandson Billy Blank, Mr. and Mrs. John Storer and Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson.

Original poems, a story and an essay were read by Scribblers club members at a meeting last evening with Mrs. S. L. Leeka of East Center street. Thursday, Dec. 5, was set as the date for the next meeting, which will be held with Mrs. E. E. Parish of 726 East Church street.

Misses Eleanor Gandert and Betty Cahill entertained with a miscellaneous shower Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Robert Precht, formerly Miss Arlene Errett. Awards in Whoopee were won by Miss Patricia Shank and Mrs. Dale Nickison. A table, arranged for lunch, was decorated with tiny umbrellas and a wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Present with the honor guest were Mrs. Mott, Mrs. Eulalia Precht and daughter, Jane of Shelby, Mrs. Dale Nickison, Mrs. Merle Zieg, Misses Betty Lusch, Jean Metz, Donna Lewis, Patricia Shank, Donna Price, Rosalind Gandert, Mrs. J. Gandert and Mrs. H. D. Cahill.

SCHOOL PROGRAM

Symphony Board Preparing for Concert Series

REPORTS on the sale of tickets for the season's program of the Marion Civic orchestra and plans for the opening concert on Tuesday, Nov. 26 at the Palace theater were important highlights of the meeting of the Woman's Symphony board yesterday at Hotel Harding.

Approximately 500 tickets have been sold to date by the women, who are making an intensive drive for a capacity attendance for the concert series. The drive will continue until the opening concert date and reports on both the sale and concert will be made at the next board meeting Dec. 5, Mrs. Harold K. Mouser, president of the board, announced.

Two of the three concerts will be held at the Palace theater this year. Seats for these will be reserved at no extra cost, and there also will be single admission tickets, the board announces. Dates for making reservations for the opening concert will be announced soon. Miss Paulina Ruvinska, concert pianist of New York City, will be the guest soloist on the opening night.

Plans were discussed for a buffet dinner for the patrons, guarantors and board members, at Hotel Harding preceding the concert on Nov. 26.

WHO SAYS YOU CAN'T GET SUDS IN THIS HARD WATER!

Believe it or not, VEL makes the biggest suds you ever got in this hard water! An amazing new kind of suds that won't streak dishes with Hard-Water Scum!

"TAKES THE CURSE OUT OF DISH-WASHING," women exclaim, as VEL gives them more suds, 5 times more, than any soap, cup for cup, in hardest water!

WOW! WHAT A SPARKLE on those dishes, silverware and glasses, because, for all its mountains of suds, VEL won't make one speck of hard-water scum to streak shiny things.

YOU SAVE BIG MONEY, TOO, because it takes only ½ as much VEL to do the job as soap-flakes. That's worth while!

WHAT A BREAK FOR YOUR HANDS, lady, when you wash dishes with VEL, because VEL contains no horrid alkali to irritate your skin.

Yes, ma'm, you could wash dishes ten times a day in VEL suds without suds irritation.

YOU'VE GUESSED IT! Ideal for fine fabrics, because VEL makes no hard-water scum to gray down the bright fresh colors of stockings, prints and woolens! Dainties washed in VEL come out singing with sparkle.

BUY VEL TODAY and see why women with "hard-water blues" sing praise of this different suds.

A BALL IN THE FIFTIES

When great-grandmother was a girl, one of the social graces was the proper management of a hoop skirt while dancing. One "social grace" that is still important is a table beautifully set with silver. Now that the season for entertaining and holiday festivities is at hand, wouldn't you be proud to have your table gleam with lovely silver? Such a table adds graciousness to any occasion.

Why not stop into Carroll's tomorrow and let us show you our great variety of new and traditional patterns in flatware. We would be happy to explain the various convenient plans for buying this lovely silver for your own home or for a Fall bride you particularly wish to delight.

CHICKEN CROQUETTES WITH CRANBERRY CENTERS

1¾ cups cold cooked chicken, chopped
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon celery salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon onion juice
1 teaspoon parsley, chopped
¾ cup White Sauce
¾ cup cranberry jelly
1 cup sifted bread crumbs
1 egg, slightly beaten with
1 tablespoon water

Combine chicken, seasonings, lemon juice, onion juice, parsley and White Sauce. Chill. Cut cranberry jelly into 1-inch cubes. Shape the croquettes. Make a depression in the center of each one and fill with a cube of cranberry jelly. Cover with chicken mixture. Roll in crumbs, then in beaten egg, then again in crumbs. Fry in deep hot Spry (375° F.) until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Serves 6. Do all your frying with purer Spry. No unpleasant smell or smoke and foods are crisp, tasty, easy to digest.

WHITE SAUCE

2 tablespoons Spry
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 cup milk

Melt pure bland Spry in saucepan; add flour, salt and pepper and blend well. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly, and continue stirring and cooking until thickened. (All measurements in these recipes are level.)

BOMB IN CAR KILLS YOUTH AND SISTER

Children of Scranton Health Director Are Victims.

By The Associated Press

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 8—One suspect was questioned, but quickly dismissed, in an investigation today of th bomb deaths of the son and daughter of Scranton's public health director as detectives from other states joined in a widening inquiry.

The explosion last night brought immediate death to William Rebhorn, 19-year-old University of Scranton student, and his sister Lois, 17.

Both were mangled as one of them touched the door handle of the family car in front of the Rebhorn home.

County Detective Joseph J. Rafter said the bomb apparently had been wired to explode as the automobile door was opened.

Fifteen minutes earlier, Dr. E. H. Rebhorn, the victims' father, left home to attend a hospital staff meeting contrary to his usual custom, he left the automobile at home—and walked to the hospital.

Rafter and other authorities said there still was no clear motive, but indicated there was a possibility a disgruntled patient of Dr. Rebhorn might have planted the explosive.

In addition to serving as director of public health, Dr. Rebhorn is a surgeon for a large coal company and often has given testimony on compensation claims. He said he had "no known enemies."

"If anybody had anything against me," Dr. Rebhorn said, "why didn't they take it out on me and not on my children."

County Detective Rafter said the suspect picked up this morning had written letters to the doctor about a job.

"We will work day and night without sleep until the perpetrator of this diabolical outrage is identified and apprehended," declared District Attorney Michael J. Eagen.

Young Rebhorn and his sister were enroute to a store to buy a birthday card for a relative.

The explosion was heard a mile away.

Mrs. Rebhorn, rushing out, stumbled over the girl's body on the sidewalk, her left arm blown off. In the middle of the street lay the boy's mangled form, his right hand missing. Physicians found pieces of metal in both bodies.

The entire left side of the automobile was blown away.

Lois, a high school senior, had just been accepted at Colby college in Maine. There are two other children in the family.

Wheelbarrow Ride Won in Election Bet Called Off

An election bet in which the loser was to take the victor for a wheelbarrow ride from the Erie railroad roundhouse to the courthouse was abruptly cancelled when the winner feared for his own and the victim's personal safety as they jogged into a lane of heavy noon-day traffic on Kenton avenue today.

The principals set out from the roundhouse at noon, one perched on the chassis of the familiar one-wheeled vehicle, the other puffing hard as he pushed it in the general direction of the uptown section. They arrived safely at Kenton avenue and free-wheeled several blocks through traffic before the winner decided the remainder of the trip would be too dangerous.

DISTRICT FIREMEN'S GROUP MEETS HERE

43 Attend Annual Session; Legislators Speak.

Forty-three firemen from Marion and other cities in this section of the state attended the annual fall meeting of the northwest district of the Ohio Firefighters association at the Eagles hall yesterday afternoon.

Mayor Snare spoke briefly welcoming the firemen to the city and short talks were given by State Senator D. A. Liggitt of Belle Center, Earl E. Thomas of Marion, Marion county representative in the state legislature, Fire Chief McFarland, Safety-Service Director Clyde C. Caldwell, Chief C. J. Sedgwick of Toledo, vice president of the Ohio association, Chief John Redmond of Chicago, vice president of the international association, Chief J. J. O'Doherty of Lorain, the state association's legislative agent.

Following the business meeting a dinner was served by Marion members of the association. The district is composed of lodges organized among city firemen at Toledo, Mansfield, Shelby, Lima, Galion, Kenton, Findlay, Fremont, Bellefontaine, Fostoria, Sandusky and Marion.

rock" and the Spanish mainland—apparently to guard against any land attack from Spain.

Hitler's high command reported another blow at British shipping amid a widening sea-raid campaign that has already caused official uneasiness in England.

The German high command acknowledged that RAF warplanes attacked "some towns" in the Rhine province during the night, damaging houses, killing and wounding an undisclosed number.

Raiders Over England

German night raiders again scattered bombs over a wide area of England, concentrating their attacks as usual on London. The British government said damage had been done to public utilities, private homes and business properties.

The Nazi raids were less prolonged than on recent nights, however, tapering off shortly after midnight. Casualties were said to be comparatively few.

Attention of diplomatic circles was drawn anew to the Far East by the assertion of Ichizo Kobayashi, Japanese commerce minister, that complete cooperation between Japan and The Netherlands East Indies is not only desirable but inevitable.

Netherlands East Indies authorities, Kobayashi said, "realize that to maintain their island government they must shake hands with us."

The Japanese minister indicated he would return to Batavia soon to continue negotiations by which Japan hopes among other things to obtain more Indies oil for her war machine.

CHANCES FOR LABOR PEACE SEEN NEARER

Leaders Believe Lewis Will Make Promise Good.

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 8—A growing belief that peace between labor's warring factions may be an immediate result of the recent election was evident today in high circles of both the C.I.O. and A. F. of L.

It was based primarily upon the increasing conviction that C.I.O. Chieftain John L. Lewis will make good his pre-election promise to step aside in event President Roosevelt won a third term.

Leaders attending last night's regular meeting of the C.I.O. Steel City Industrial Union council and the A.F.L. Central Labor union said they expected President Roosevelt to request a reconvening of the peace negotiating committees of the rival organizations.

Saying such a program "undoubtedly is in the cards," Leo Abernathy, international president of the Bill Posters and Distributors union added he thought such a call would come shortly after the close or possibly during the imminent conventions of the two groups.

The C.I.O. meets Nov. 18 in Atlantic City and the A.F.L. at New Orleans on Nov. 19.

Privately leaders in both factions say they regard Lewis as the chief stumbling block to peace in the house of labor.

Throughout his career, they say, the heavy-browed Welshmen has been an uncompromising, bulldog battler where the issue involved a principle so dear to his heart as that of the vertical or industrial union for mass production industries versus the A.F.L. craft setup.

Peace parleys between the A.F.L. and C.I.O. broke down two years ago. The A.F.L. refused Lewis' suggestion that all C.I.O. unions be admitted to the A.F.L. President William Green of the A.F.L. and his group wanted jurisdictional disputes settled first. Each claims about a 4,000,000 members.

DORIS DUKE EVADES QUESTION ON DIVORCE

By The Associated Press

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Nov. 8—Doris Duke Cromwell, preparing to sail tonight for Honolulu, good naturedly told a reporter "you're very curious" when he asked if she planned to divorce James H. R. Cromwell, former minister to Canada, who admitted yesterday they are estranged.

"Divorce?" she echoed a question, "I do not follow you."

Then she intimated she might have a statement to make at sailing time.

By The Associated Press

SPRING LAKE, N. J., Nov. 8—James H. R. Cromwell, disclosing he and his wife, the former Doris Duke, were estranged, declared yesterday he had not "the faintest idea," of any plans Mrs. Cromwell might have for a divorce.

He said he had not seen Mrs. Cromwell since June 4.

OHIO'S 1940 RELIEF COST OVER 24 MILLION

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 8—Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood predicted today that, barring sharp deviation from present employment trends, Ohio's 1940 direct relief expense would approximate $24,500,000—a decrease of more than $500,000 from 1939.

Sherwood said huge decreases in September and October cut costs for the first 10 months of 1940 below the corresponding period a year ago, despite the fact that the bill for the first half of 1940 exceeded 1939's by $1,146,000.

Preliminary reports indicated an October expense of $1,811,000—$3,763 over September, but $465,000 below October 1939. Noting a case load decline of 5,738, Sherwood attributed the September-October cost increase to greater demands for fuel and clothing.

EPWORTH CLASS MEETS AT KNAPP RESIDENCE

Members of the Mothers class of Epworth Methodist Sunday school were entertained at the home of Mrs. Frank M. Knapp on Bradford street Monday evening. Mrs. Tabor Adams conducted devotions and a talk on the Twenty-Third Psalm was given by Mrs. John Ruth. Marilyn Abbott, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. George W. Wilson, sang "Sylvia" and "Rose in the Bud." Emil Sweney, superintendent of the Sunday school, talked on Sunday school attendance and Cradle Roll work. Gourds, pine cones and candles carried out a Thanksgiving theme for the table decorations. Assisting Mrs. Knapp on the committee were Mrs. Ray Williams, chairman, Mrs. John Abbott, Mrs. F. L. Thomas, Mrs. Darel DeVore, Mrs. Charles Baldwin, Mrs. George W. Wilson, Mrs. Charles Baldwin, Mrs. George J. Flatman, Mrs. Harold Stayner and Mrs. D. L. Stribley.

Ohio C. of C. Aid Cites Way To Save Millions for State

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Nov. 8—Declaring that budgets can not be balanced by magic, the Ohio Chamber of Commerce research director presented today a three-point program which he said would save the state of Ohio $6,500,000 annually.

The recommendations by Dr. Arch D. Schultz, given at a taxation forum in the closing sessions of the organization's 47th annual convention, called for:

1—Coordinated county and city purchasing through a central system, to save $2,000,000 annually.

2—"Correcting wastes in contract transportation of school children with a savings of $2,000,000."

3—Placing the public employes retirement system on a pay-as-you-go basis rather than on a reserve basis, saving $2,500,000.

Schultz also urged centralization of relief administration and "thawing out local revenues" for "substantial additional economies."

"There is going to be no magic in balancing budgets or reducing taxes," he said. "It has to be done by plain hard work. It requires research to ascertain the detailed points at which savings can be made.....Balanced budget or tax reduction is not a political slogan. It is a management problem."

Gordon W. Rosencrans, the Chamber's director of state legislation, predicted that the biggest problem before the state administration and legislature next year would be "formulating of a program by means of which the political subdivisions may solve their own problems."

The chamber last night heard Dr. Paul F. Cadman, economist for the American Bankers' association, describe the proposed increase in the public debt limit to $65,000,000,000 as a "grave" measure.

BRIDGE

Olympic peninsula, is over a mile long. The collapse came in the 2,800-foot center suspension span.

Huge Towers Bent

The towers holding the 17-inch cables were bent about 12 feet out of line, but Andrew said the towers might be utilized in reconstruction. He said the cables, also, were probably all right, but they would be inspected to determine whether they were frayed. He estimated the bridge could be rebuilt by next July 4.

Prof. Farquharson, who directed the experiments on the laboratory model, disclosed the tests had produced the twisting motion that caused the collapse.

"We watched it," he recalled, "and we said that if that sort of motion ever occurred on the real bridge, it would be the end.

"We had hopes, and I am sure we could have found the remedy if we had only been given a little more time."

The bridge was constructed with a PWA grant of $2,800,000 and an RFC loan of $3,520,000. It cut 50 miles from the traveling distance between Fort Lewis and the U. S. navy yard at Bremerton.

Andrew said a Tacoma contracting firm (Woodworth and Cornell) would start today to dismantle the concrete from the sagging approaches.

Leon S. Moisseiff of New York, designer of the bridge, said he was "completely at a loss to explain the collapse." He telephoned Andrew that he was sending a representative from the east. Ralph Keenan of the Pacific Bridge company, the bridge builders, flew up from San Francisco to inspect the wreckage.

JAPANESE GET CONTROL OF COURTS IN SHANGHAI

By The Associated Press

SHANGHAI, Nov. 8—A Japanese spokesman announced today that authoritis of Shanghai's French concession had handed over to the Japanese-sponsored government at Nanking control of two Chinese courts in the concession, bringing Japan's long-standing ambition to dominate foreign areas of the city much nearer fruition.

He said the action was taken in accordance with a "French-Nanking agreement negotiated at the instigation of the Japanese," and expressed hope that similar agreements could be reached on other Chinese courts in the International Settlement, although no negotiations are under way.

RUMOR PECKINPAUGH TRIBE'S NEXT LEADER

Cleveland News Says Former Manager Gets Job.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 8 — The Cleveland News said today it had been informed by two usually reliable sources that Roger Peckinpaugh, once-fired manager of the Cleveland Indians, has been chosen to pilot the 1941 team.

"I hope that's right," Peckinpaugh commented. "I know I'm still in the running."

President Alva Bradley, who earlier said a manager would be announced next Tuesday, would not confirm the report.

The News quoted him as saying in New York that Peckinpaugh was "one of three leading candidates" he named Luke Sewell, present Indian coach, as another, but Sewell has belittled his chances.

"There's something in the wind that prevents my talking about that third man at this time," Bradley observed.

Oscar Vitt, the 1940 manager, was fired last month as the outgrowth of last summer's player rebellion.

Peckinpaugh managed the Indians five and a half seasons. He was ousted in mid-1933 in favor of Walter Johnson. Under his direction the Redskins won 416 games and lost 402, finishing third, fourth three times and seventh.

ive leadership and support that has come to us in this campaign."

"We shall support the President," he added, "when not in conflict with the great principles for which we fought in this crusade."

To this he added the prediction that "in 1942 we will elect a Republican congress and prepare the way for a greater victory in 1944."

Republican strength in the presidential race carried over to some extent into senate contests, producing a net gain of four seats, but in the house the gains went to the Democrats.

Senate Lineup

The new senate will have 28 Republican members, as against the present 24; 66 Democrats compared with 69 at present; one Independent and one Progressive. Three of the new Republican seats were picked up from the Democrats; the fourth resulted from the reelection of Senator Henrik Shipstead of Minnesota presently a Farmer-Laborite, who went over to the Republican ticket and won.

In the house, the Democrats picked up 9 seats for a total of 267. Republicans elected 162 members. At present 258 of the 435 house members are Democrats, 167 are Republicans and there are two Progressives, one Farmer-Laborite, one American Laborite and six vacancies.

FREIGHTS COLLIDE NEAR DOODLEBUG CRASH SCENE

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., Nov. 8—Pennsylvania railroad officials investigated today a freight train collision within a mile of the scene where the "doodlebug" shuttle wreck killed 43 persons last July 31.

A double-header 80-car freight train crashed into the rear of a standing train. The leading locomotive turned over and the second was derailed. The caboose and a car of the other freight train were thrown off the tracks.

No one was injured.

TOWER OF LONDON FAMED CHURCH HIT

Two Historic British Buildings Damaged by Bombs.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Nov. 8—The famous tower of London and the church of St. Clement Danes in the Strand have been hit by bombs in recent raids. Permission was given today to disclose these hits.

Much of the historic interior of St. Clement Dane's, regarded as one of the most beautiful churches designed by Sir Christopher Wren, has been destroyed but the structure still looks proudly down on the Strand.

A bomb fell near the church, demolishing windows and making most of the interior "almost a shambles," as the rector, Rev. W. Pennington Bickford, put it.

Two of its most precious parts escaped damage, however. They were the stone altar dating back to pre-reformation days and the pulpit, carved by Grinling Gibbons.

The ancient tower, the scene of many sufferings in English history, served in its day as a fortress, a royal residence and a prison. Its tall spire on the shore of the Thames is one of the historic landmarks of London.

Among the famed figures of British history who languished in it were James I of Scotland and Sir Walter Raleigh. It was there that Henry VIII married Catherine of Aragon and Anne Boleyn.

There also Anne Boleyn was beheaded as also were Catherine Howard, Sr Thomas Mor and many others walked to the scaffold behind its grim walls.

The church of St. Clement Danes was built in 1681 and a tablet in one pew recalls that Dr. Samuel Johnson once worshipped there.

BRITISH STRIKE HARD BLOWS AT GERMANY

Great Krupp Works at Essen Target of Attack.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Nov. 8 — British bombers struck a heavy blow at the great German Krupp munitions works at Essen during the night and inflicted "severe damage," the air ministry reported today.

A concentrated attack also was made on the German submarine base at Lorient, a communique said.

Other targets of the RAF raiders were listed as a synthetic oil tank at Cologne, a large part of which was reportedly set afire; blast furnaces at Dusseldorf and Oberhausen; docks on the Dortmundems canal; the inland port of Duisberg; shipping in Dunkerque harbor, and airdromes in Germany and German-occupied territory.

At Lorient, the air ministry news service reported, the RAF struck at a power sttaion, naval workshops, barracks near a drydock, shipbuilding ways and railway approaches.

Tons of bombs started fires which were still visible for half an hour after the bombers had started home, the news service said.

The news service said the British raiding force returned without casualties.

Aircraft of the British coastal command also bombed airfields at Abbeville and Lannian, firing buildings at Abbeville and dropping explosives on the Lannian field as German planes were taking off, the news service reported.

MANSFIELD MAN BECOMES INTERNATIONAL PROBLEM

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 8—James J. Collins, 44, who gave his address as Mansfield, O., has become an international problem.

Collins has been in the London jail for more than two months on a vagrancy charge. Deportation proceedings were started when he said he was a United States citizen, but Canadian officials said he has not been able to prove his citizenship. They are undecided as to the disposition of the case.

SINKING BRITISH SHIP SENDS RADIO CALL FOR AID

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—The British freighter Empire Dorado radioed today that she was "sinking slowly" about 300 miles west of Ireland, and that there were "casualties aboard."

Balkans Become Torch Ready To Break Into Flame

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

With the Italians redoubling their efforts on a big scale to try to smash their way through the fiercely resisting Greeks, the fiery Balkans are keyed to a pitch where it wouldn't take much more to cause a general upheaval.

A flaming Balkan peninsula is the last thing the axis partners want, as they methodically prepare the way for their big offensive against the British in the eastern Mediterranean area. So we see Herr Hitler sitting on the lid, with a great mechanized army crouching in Rumania like a tom-cat before a mouse-hole, ready to knock-off the first head that raises itself.

Serves Double Purpose

The fuehrer thus serves a double purpose. He prevents a general conflagration from upsetting his program, and he prevents help reaching the Greeks from neighbors and making the Fascist path even more thorny than the invaders have been finding it.

The axis operations in the Balkans have been developing after the fashion of Aunt Agatha's crazy-quilt — one carefully selected piece being added at a time. Hitler's scheme seems to be to take the Balkans states over one by one, without any more fuss and feathers than is necessary, until he has consolidated that whole strategic area into a base from which he is to try to force the Dardanelles and drive at Britain's eastern flank.

Whether he will inaugurate this big offensive soon must depend on circumstances, including Mussolini's progress in Greece. The axis will be daring if it tackles the Dardanelles before spring, since the fall and winter weather in that part of the world is pretty terrible. Terrain, which under the best of circumstances is difficult for maneuvers, becomes a sea of greasy, clinging mud.

Hungary Is Question

Hungary, lying at the head of the Balkans, is well within the Nazi camp. The hob-nails of German troops are tramping down the roling fields of Rumania. Bulgaria is non-belligerent under the leadership of King Boris (who is son-in-law of the King of Italy), but it would occasion no surprise to see her grant Germany the privilege of using her territory as base for an army—right up against the Turkish and Greek borders.

There remains Yugoslavia, key state of the peninsula (if we regard Turkey as outside that zone). The Yugoslavs are in a most unhappy position, for they not only lie up against both Germany and Italy but are virtually surrounded by axis controlled territory.

Despite their vulnerable position the Yugoslavs have announced that they will defend themselves if attacked. Most certainly that will be the whole inclination of one of the bravest races under the sun.

FORMER LA RUE RESIDENT STRICKEN IN PITTSBURGH

Howard E. Cleveland, Former Marion Co. Teacher, Dies.

Howard E. Cleveland, native of LaRue, died this morning in Pittsburgh after a short illness.

Mr. Cleveland was reared in the vicinity of LaRue and taught in a country school near LaRue for several years before going to Pittsburgh about 20 years ago. He was a principal in one of the Pittsburgh schools.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Zelda Manley Cleveland, formerly of LaRue, a son, Howard, of Pittsburgh, and a brother, John Cleveland of LaRue.

According to word received by Mrs. Ervin Dutton of 790 Congress street, a sister-in-law, the funeral will be conducted Monday afternoon at LaRue.

POLITICAL BROADCASTING BILL RUNS TO $1,500,000

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—Political broadcasting in the 1940 campaign cost Democrats and Republicans a little more than $1,500,000 for network time alone.

This does not take into account amounts spent on local stations in various parts of the country, which, when compiled, may add a million or so more.

The Democrats were somewhat ahead in the networks' figures, their total being around $811,800, divided NBC $362,000, CBS $319,300 and MBS $130,500.

The Republican total was about $692,100 of which $293,000 went to NBC, $274,600 to CBS and $124,500 to MBS.

ADJOURNMENT TREND GROWS

Several Major Bills Would Be Killed by Ending Session Now.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—Prospects for the enactment of a $10 billion national defense program appeared virtually extinguished today as congressmen, the election over, showed a marked inclination to wind up this session's business by a vote of adjournment within the next 10 days.

Even should a formal request materialize by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau for additional taxes and an expansion of the federal borrowing authority, it appeared unlikely that it would receive Democratic leaders from a determination to put off further work until January—a determination that found sympathy with some Republican chieftains.

Would Kill 4 Bills

An adjournment now, in effect, would kill four house approved measures and at least two important resolutions pending in the senate.

Supporters of Wagner act amendments, the Logan-Walter bill to facilitate court appeals from the decisions of government agencies, the anti-lynching measure and the Ramspeck civil service bill would lose the ground they gained in winning house passage at these measures and would have to start all over again in the next session.

Only the Ramspeck bill, which would permit the President to bring approximately 200,000 employes of so-called "temporary" government agencies under the civil service, was in a slightly different category from the others since it was approved in varying form by both the houses and needed only the completion of a satisfactory compromise to win the final passage.

The other three measures were awaiting senate action, along with a proposal to relax legal restrictions to permit the extension of credits to Great Britain and a resolution to investigate the government's fiscal setup with a view toward recommending an approach to a balanced budget.

Can't "Pay As Go"

Secretary Morgenthau told reporters yesterday that he didn't believe it was possible at this time to put government expenditures on a "pay as you go" basis because of prospective increases in defense spending, adding "we've just begun to rearm."

The treasury, he said, had found itself in a "rather difficult position" because the old debt limitation of $45,000,000,000 was "practically reached" and congress had limited a previously approved increase of $4,000,000,000 restricted to use for financing of defense outlays.

For this reason Morgenthau said he would seek relaxation of the latter restriction, higher taxes and an increase of from $15,000,000,000 to $20,000,000,000 in the debt limitation.

QUARANTINE ON DOGS LIFTED BY BOARD

Health Official Reports Rabies Threat Passed.

A dog quarantine placed here six months ago following a series of rabies cases was lifted yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the city health board in Mayor's Scharf's office.

A request that the quarantine be lifted was made by Dr. M. M. Wertheim, city health commissioner, who pointed out that rabies is extremely rare during the winter months and that the ban on pets has forbidden cats have been completed here recently. The board passed the dog quarantine as a temporary measure May 17 a few days after Wertheim called a special session of the board to discuss the rabies situation. At that time a rabid dog bit several members of a West Side family and several persons, including Cecil Dial, Warren Ebner, Leon, were the unfortunate rabies victims.

Since then only four rabid dogs have been found here and no human cases have been reported.

Mrs. Helen S. Kinney presided at the meeting yesterday in the absence of Mayor Scharf. Others present were Mrs. Carl B. Miller and C. J. W. Hall.

The board gave permission to Dr. Wertheim to attend the annual meeting of Ohio health commissioners in Columbus Dec. 11 and 12 and members of the health department staff filed reports of their October activities.

The fact that more Want Ads are carried in The Star as the days, months, and years roll on is proof of the excellent results obtained for Want Ad users.

This gain is evidence of how the families and business firms of Marion and surrounding territory repeat and continue their Want Ad advertising after they once try them.

If you, as an individual, have anything to sell, rent, trade, or if you should lose some article or pet that you value, or if you want to buy anything from pins to houses you can do so with a result-getting Want Ad.

You as a business man, or the operator of a business, either large or small, can also use the Want Ads to greater benefits. Make sure your firm is one of the many daily users of Want Ads.

Persons around the corner and across the street from you use the Want Ads profitably. You can too.

THIS MARION MAN HAD ABOUT EVERYTHING TO MAKE HIM MISERABLE TILL VENDOL CAME

Had attacks of indigestion, sour stomach, gas, dizzy bilious feeling and other troubles associated with constipation.

"I don't believe any medicine I ever took compares with Vendol," declared Mr. J. W. Smith, a 74-year-old resident of 742 Oak Grove Ave., Marion. He was giving his experience to the Vendol Man in his home town, and Vendol is the same medicine now being introduced here through Eckerd's Cut Rate.

"I had been bothered with constipation for some time, and my condition seemed to be growing worse because this trouble brought on bilious attacks and then I'd suffer from sick headaches, spots dancing before my eyes, my skin looked dull and muddy and my breath was bad.

"My stomach was easily upset when this constipation was bad, and after nearly every meal I'd belch up sour, acid liquids, gas bloated me so badly that it seemed to cut my breath short, and I had sharp cramps in my stomach.

"I read about Vendol and it sounded as though here was the medicine that might do me good, so I went right to the drug store and got a bottle and a box of Vendol laxative tablets, and words can barely describe the grand relief it has given me.

THE VENDOL MAN

"It relieved my constipation; then those other annoying troubles were also relieved. I have not had a sour stomach, gas, cramps, dizzy feeling, or headache lately.

"I don't know anything much about medicines, but I do know that before I took Vendol I had about everything to make me miserable and Vendol chased them all away."

All druggists sell Vendol, and the Vendol Man is daily at Eckerd's Cut Rate Drug Co. to meet the public and explain the merits of this Alkaline Herbal medicine which is highly praised by so many Ohio people. Come and him today; learn how Vendol may help you also.—Adv.

Pitfalls of Love

A Sequel to "Marriage Meddlers"

By ADELE GARRISON

In This Phase—the Seventeenth of "Revelations of a Wife," the Author Carries On the Dramatic Story of the Married Life of Madge and Dicky Graham.

I WAS on my knees before a flower bed in my beloved "picture garden" at the farm, with Junior and Roderick on either side watching my every movement, when the familiar motor horn blared.

"Daddy, Daddy!" Junior shrieked, and Roderick added an exclusively joyous "Uncle Dicky!" as the two boys poised for flight, forgetting the "flats" of small pots filled with tiny plants in which they had been so feverishly interested.

But before they ran to meet Dicky, they both demanded, "Aren't you coming, too?"

"No. I mustn't leave these plants. Run along now, kiss daddy, and tell him I'm out here in the garden," I told them with only a soupcon of mendacity, for sunset was fast approaching, and I wanted to get my especial pets in the ground without further delay. But I knew that was not my real reason. I had not seen my husband for nearly a week, and I did not want my first reunion with him witnessed by even the boys.

Married Lovers

It is a fetish with both of us lately, this keeping our greeting and parting kisses away from eyes not exactly alien, but certainly curious. It is something which most brides and grooms stress, but which older married people forget, or regard as foolish. But it is a part of a renewed honeymoon, a midsummer flowering of happiness in each other which has come to us this last winter and spring following the horrible death of Jack Leslie after scotching of his plot to kill my father and Noel and carry Mary off, and to blackmail Dicky into betraying my father into his hands.

My husband and I had not "drifted apart," but our diversity of interests, his work as an artist and mine as a playwright, had kept us from getting the entire happiness out of our marriage to which every pair of married lovers is entitled.

Because of this we are reveling in the quietness and serenity with which our lives have been invested the past few months.

I worked busily with my trowel, but I was agog with the prospect of seeing my husband as well as with wonder of what could have brought him home thus unexpectedly, and when I heard his footsteps on the flagged terrace above the garden, I dropped my trowel, drew off my garden gloves, and stood up, thrilling at his nearness, as the bride of a week might do.

Happy Moments

As he saw me, he took the terrace in two giant strides, the grassy plot between us in three more, and caught me to him in a close embrace.

"Glad to see me, Sweet?" he asked.

"You know that," I returne demurely. "But I am afraid I'm a bit grubby."

"Not you," he said with a compliment in his voice. "But I'd love it if you were. In fact I love every bit of this gardening craze of yours. I didn't use to fall for it so hard. Remember?"

"Yes," I said with a mischievous upward smile at him. "I remember your tell me each spring that I went crazy—well—crazier than usual—twice a year, at Christmas time, and when the seed catalogues began to arrive in the spring."

"Why throw that up to me now, when I'm singing so different a tune?" he asked with a comradely grin. "But it isn't the garden, as you very well know. I don't know a petunia from a dahlia. It's just that I'm so blasted glad to have you at home again. And yet I've been so puffed up with pride at having a successful playwright for a wife, that my chest measure, also my hat size, have grown a foot or two."

"Rise to Fame"

I kissed him impetuously, for I am still amazed at the way in which Dicky has taken my "rise to fame," as Lillian puts it. My play, with Mary in the leading role, scored an instant success when Philip Veritzen, after so long a delay and so many vicissitudes, finally produced it on Broadway. He and Queen Olga postponed their marriage until after its premiere.

For a few weeks following the production, life had been most hectic for Mary and me. I surmised it still was for Mary, for of course she had to be at the theater every night, and she and Noel were living in luxurious quarters at the Lansfield, while Philip Veritzen, after a brief honeymoon with his queenly wife, had domiciled her in a big beautiful house in the city overlooking the river. Olina, a subdued and tractable Olina, apparently absorbed in her success as a harpist in my play, was with him, and life seemed roseate for all of them.

But especially for me, because after the first few hectic weeks, I had resolutely detached myself from the playhouse and come back to the farm and my family. Dicky was able to do much of his work at home, and in Lillian's phrasing, we were "fairly wallowing in domesticity."

I knew with a knowledge of a perverse kink in my make-up that I would not have enjoyed coming back so much if Dicky had demanded it, or shown any jealousy of my career. But his wholehearted admiration and pride made me eager to reward him.

Reward for Dicky

"Is there anybody else that can do this stunt just now, or can they wait till tomorrow?"

"I don't want them to wait," I said, a bit uncertainly. Then, with sudden resolution, for something in his tone told me he needed me for something, I turned and called to Junior and Roderick who were racing toward us.

"Boys! Please get Jim and ask him to come here at once."

"Okay!" they called back and raced off again, while Dicky grinned at me.

"I flagged them when I came in and sent them off on a fool's errand so as to have a minute alone with you."

"I guessed as much," I told him demurely.

"Well! I don't have so many," he said defensively. "Are you sure Jim can do this stunt all right? I know how—fastidious—you are about your plants."

"You mean 'fussy' don't you?" I asked mischievously. "Yes, Jim knows how and he'll be patient with the boys who are crazy to help."

"That's fine all around," he said. "For I need you a little while—thank Heaven I don't have to have your help for anything special, but Lil's in a dither, something that she can't talk to you about by telephone, and she has an order on hand that's got to be finished in the next few days. So when she got this letter, she rushed over to me, and wanted to know if I could possibly bring it out to you and have you see what you make of it."

I put my hands on his shoulders and shook him slightly.

"It's About Marion"

"Will you go slowly?" I demanded. "What letter do you mean, and what is this all about, anyway?"

"It's about Marion, of course. I can't imagine Lillian getting all steamed up about anybody else. And as the letter is from Helena Brixton, I imagine Ronald is involved as well, or perhaps it's Carolyn. She's Marion's roommate at Weirhampton, the same as she was at Hackettstown, isn't she?"

"Yes, she is." I answered slowly, my own brain in a "dither," my heart suddenly heavy with foreboding. Life had been so delightful in its smoothness. I had forgotten there were problems in the world. And I knew that my best and oldest friend, Lillian Underwood, as dear as a sister to me, would never have sent to me for counsel, if she felt she had not sorely needed it.

But I knew her almost idolatrous love for her only child, Marion Morton, whose father, Tom Morton, Lillian's first husband, had treated her so vilely. After years of storm and stress with Harry Underwood whom she had married in that early time in an endeavor to "pick up the pieces" of her shattered life, they had found happiness and peace together, and Harry, Dicky's best friend, was as proud and fond of winsome Marion as if she were his own daughter.

The Boys Help

"Did you want me, Ma'am?" Jim's voice brought me back from the realm of speculation.

"Yes, I did," I answered, "and if you can I wish you'd let the boys help you in planting them."

His eyes met mine in stolid but humorous comprehension of the "help" the boys would give him, but his voice was even.

"I'll be glad to have 'em," he said, and leaving the delighted boys with him, Dicky guided my steps toward the little outdoor studio he had built for me several seasons before.

"I fancy this is the safest place," he said. "Mother hasn't discovered I'm here, has she?"

"If she had she'd have been out here before this," I told him smiling.

"Yes, I know," he said fondly, for he loves his aged mother dearly. "But I do want to get this off my mind first."

Disturbing News

We went into the bungalow, and sat down before the "fagot fire" which Jim had built for me but a few minutes before. Then Dicky took a bulky letter from his pocket and handed it to me.

"I haven't read it," he said. "Lil wanted me to, but I'd rather get your slant on it first."

I took the letter gingerly, for I am not "overly fond" as my mother-in-law would put it, of Helena Brixton, who was a girlhood friend of Lillian's. And I found myself mentally bracing myself for some unpleasant revelation.

I needed bracing, I told myself when I read the first paragraph of the letter. While somewhat incoherent, Helena had blurted out her grief and resentment at once.

"Dear Lil:—" she had written. "Whatever has happened? Are you responsible for what Marion is doing? I am afraid for my boy's reason and his life. Ronald has lost fifteen pounds in the last month, and he goes around like a person who has lost his mind. And it is all Marion's fault."

4-H CLUB MEMBERS TO SET UNION CO. AWARDS

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, Nov. 8 — The first of sixteen 4-H club achievement meetings for Union county will be held Nov. 7 at New Dover where achievement certificates will be presented members of some of the clubs. Leaders and their assistants will receive gold pins and bronze pins will be awarded to first year members and silver for fourth year members and gold pins for sixth year members.

Other similar achievement meetings have been planned for Washington township, Dec. 10; Jackson township, Dec. 13; Peoria, Nov. 8; Allen Center, Nov. 12; York and Leesburg township, Nov. 22; Millcreek township, Nov. 26.

Former Marion Naval Recruiter's Body To Be Placed in Arlington Cemetery

The body of Thomas O. Showers, former Marion naval recruiting officer who died last month at the U. S. naval hospital in Canacao, Philippine Islands, will be buried in Arlington National cemetery at Arlington, Va., according to word received today from his widow, Mrs. Alice M. Showers of 1137 Seventh avenue, San Diego, Calif.

The body will arrive on the U. S. S. Trinity at Mare Island, Calif., on Nov. 26. Mrs. Showers will act as escort on the trip east to the cemetery.

It is likely that his son, Tom Jr., will be on his way to army duty in Honolulu and that his boat will pass the California-bound Trinity in the Pacific, Mrs. Showers wrote.

Son in Service

During his R. O. T. C. training in high school the son joined the California National Guard in Long Beach and rose to the rank of lieutenant. One of the first regiments mobilized in the National Guard call was the 251st Coast Artillery of which he is a member. His regiment has been ordered to sail Nov. 16 to Honolulu, believes Mr. Showers' death the believes Mrs. Showers' death the week-end of Oct. 26 was from cerebral hemorrhage, and that he was not able to tell officials her correct address, accounting for the first telegram coming to Marion. The week before his death she and their son each received a letter from him in which he stressed the importance of keeping the bureau informed of their address "if anything of a serious nature should occur." The son's letter was dated "Enroute to Hong Kong, China," and Mrs. Showers' was from "Tsing Tao, China."

Expected to Be In Shanghai

He expected to be in Shanghai and wrote: "In Shanghai it is probable we will be designated as Station Ship as long as we remain there. I won't mind staying there a while for they should be having lovely weather there, just about like the weather around Marion at this time of year." He wrote of his happiness at having become a Thirty-Second degree Mason.

Mr. Showers, who held the rank of chief carpenter's mate, had been on the U. S. S. Marblehead in China waters for the last several years. He was a member of Marion Lodge No. 70, F. and A. M. and Lydia Chapter No. 83, Order of Eastern Star.

Common Ailments Won't Bar You from Army

You'll have to be in pretty bad condition before the army loses interest in you, according to the detailed instructions issued to examining physyicians in the draft set-up.

Class 1-A, which includes the top-notch psysical specimens who are single and otherwise available for service is not so exclusive.

All it requires is that you be normal—which covers a multitude of sins, ailments, slight abnormalities, deviations and divergencies. Normal has to be a word of broad meaning, as any one who has studied biological or psychological statistics will testify.

Object of Examinations

The object of having the examinations is obvious—"to procure men who are physically fit, or who can be made so, for the rigors of general military service."

Examining physicians are instructed to use the standards simply as a guide to their discretion, that the standards are "not to be construed too strictly or arbitrarily."

One of the purposes of the examinations not given much publicity is to record all defects of all the drafted men before they go in to service. This will protect the government in case of fraudulent claims against the government from men who allege they were injured or otherwise disabled while in training.

As soon as you finish your year of training you are also given an examination—likewise to protect the government.

Class 1-A

To get down to the classification business—

Class 1-A includes men "physically qualified for general active military service. Registrants will be placed in Class 1-A if they meet Class 1-A requirements throughout the entire physical examination.

Class 1-B—Physically unfit for general active military service, but fit for special and limited military service. Registrants who fail to qualify for Class 1-A and who do not fall below Class 1-B in any phase of the examination will be placed in Class 1-B unless, because of multiple defects, the medical examiners recommend unqualified rejection and placement in Class IV. Men placed in Class 1-B will not be accepted for training unless specific direction to that effect have been issued by the war department.

Class IV—Physcally unfit for any military service. All registrants who do not meet the requirements of Class 1-A or 1-B will be placed in Class IV.

To enter into a detailed discussion of the various requirements of Class 1-A would take up two or three newspapers, but following are a few of the defects which will be accepted for Class 1A. Or, stated in another way, these are defects which will not keep you out of the draft. The list is not complete.

General—Acute communicable diseases, provided acceptance of registrant is temporarily deferred until a final examination shows recovery.

Measurements—Within a normal scale. If you are more than 78 inches tall or less than 60 you go in the physically unfit class IV.

Eyes—Normal vision. Reading of 20-100 in each eye without glasses; 20-40 bilateral, if correctable with glasses. Slight conjunctivitis, slight nystagmus, slight adhesions, color blindness, exophthalmos (pop-eyes) if not too great. Other conditions.

Ears—Normal hearing. Rating of 10-20 or better in each ear—which means hearing partially at 10 feet what a normal ear hears at 20 feet.

Mouth, Nose etc.—Normal conditions. Enlarged tonsils, adenoids, small benign tumors of nasal and buccal membrane, deviation of nasal septum and enlarged turbinates (if not interfering with nasal breathing), acute primary sinusitis (under conditions), hay fever, unless severe, laryngitis under certain conditions.

Teeth—Normal teeth and gums. A minimum of three serviceable natural masticating teeth above and three below opposing; and three serviceable natural incisors above and three below opposing. This means that the minimum for 1-A consists of a total of six masticating teeth and six incisor teeth. All these must be so opposed (opposite top and bottom) as to serve the purpose of biting and chewing. Masticating teeth include molars and bicuspids and "incisors" include incisors and cuspids. A natural tooth with a fillable cavity is considered serviceable. Teeth which have been restored by crowns or dummies attached to bridgework, if well placed, are serviceable generally. If you don't have sufficient teeth for 1-A, you go into 1-B.

Skin—Normal skin. Acute diseases which run a temporary course. Diseases which are trivial and don't interfere with general health and are not incapacitating will be accepted. These include: acne, non-disfiguring scars, abnormal coloring, acute eczemas, warts, mild scabies, ringworm under certain conditions, skin infections, all form of pediculosis (polite for lousiness), simple ulcers.

Head—Normal skull. Moderate deformities which won't keep you from wearing a soldier's hat. Temporary defects due to injuries.

Spine, Shoulder Blades, etc.—Normal. Fracture of coccyx (at base of spine), prominent shoulder blades as long as you can get into a uniform. Other defects.

Extremities—Normal. Old or recent fractures with no impairment. Paralysis which doesn't affect function. Benign tumors. Web fingers and toes unless severe. Absent left thumb, loss of two fingers of either hand unless a combination of right index and middle finger. Scars and other minor deformities. Stiff fingers, if not severe. Slight clubfoot. Flexible hammer toe. Absence of one or two small toes. Flat feet, if not too bad. The army also accepts ingrowing toenails.

Neck—Normal. Simple goiter. Enlarged lymph glands under certain conditions. Contraction of neck muscles under certain conditions.

Lungs and Chest Wall—Normal respiratory system. Acute bronchitis, under certain conditions. Healed scars of operations. Arrested pulmonary tuberculosis under certain conditions. Benign tumors under certain conditions.

Heart, Blood Vessels, Circulation—Normal heart. Pulse rate of 100 or more, if not persistant. Pulse rate of 50 or under, if natural or temporary. Irregularity of beat in inhaling and exhaling. Temporary high blood pressure. The physician is instructed to accept registrants with accidental functional heart murmurs or other findings which do not indicate disease and do not impair the registrant's ability to undergo severe bodily exertion.

Abdominal Organs and Wall—Normal. Scars of operations. Scar pains of certain types. Complaint of weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, belching, vomiting and other discomforts, generally speaking. Liver and spleen enlargement, under certain conditions. Intestinal parasites. Mild hemorrhoids. Hernia generally is not acceptable.

Genito-Urinary Organs — Mild bed-wetting. Temporary albuminaria. Moderate hydrocele or varicocele. Benign warts and other benign growth. Temporary acute cystitis, certain conditions. Absence of one testicle; undescended testicle.

Glandular-Metabolic — Goiter under conditions. Other glandular disturbances if mild and under certain conditions.

Mental and Nervous — Normal system. Registrants who appear to have a normal understanding, whose speech can be understood, who show no definite signs of organic brain disease or other nervous ailment.

Acute or chronic venereal diseases, including latent cases of syphilis, except cardiovascular, cerebrospinal and visceral syphilis will be placed in Class 1-B.

These and certain other diseases will be grounds for rejection from Class 1-A until there has been recovery without disqualifying after-effects.

Medical examiners will reject all men who are in need of hospitalization, and all those who by reason of physical defects are considered unfit for early participation in training activities.

Dennis J. Harlow, Former Marion Official, Stricken

D. J. HARLOW

Death claimed Dennis J. Harlow, 66, former Marion city service director, yesterday at 4:30 p. m. at his home at 396 Forest street. He suffered a cerebral hemorrhage last Sunday at his home.

Mr. Harlow, known to his friends as "Doc", was service director in the administration of Mayor Don Jones 10 years ago and since that time had been an inspector for the construction bureau of Division 6 of the state highway department, with headheadquarters at Delaware. He worked last Saturday, his last inspection being that of a bridge under construction on the Green Camp road.

Former Shovel Worker

Prior to his municipal appointment by Mr. Jones, Mr. Harlow was with the Marion Steam Shovel Co. and was an employe of the old Fairbanks Steam Shovel Co. for 25 years.

Mr. Harlow was a lifelong resident of Marion. He was born here on Jan. 7, 1874 to the late James Harlow, a native of Ireland, and Margaret Coughlin Harlow, a native of Toronto, Canada. His marriage to Miss Olive Porter took place in Marion 39 years ago.

He was a member of St. Mary Catholic church, the Holy Name society and the Knights of St. John.

Rites Monday

Surviving with the widow are two daughters, Margaret, secretary of the Jay H. Maish Co., who lives at home, and Mrs. Robert O'Connor of 480 Elmwood drive, and one sister, Mrs. Fred Thompson of East Center street.

Friends may call at the home. The requiem mass will be celebrated Monday at 9 a. m. at St. Mary church. Burial will be made in St. Mary Catholic cemetery.

ALL-WINTER RADIATOR PROTECTION FOR ONLY $1.50

HERE'S THE WAY many car owners do it every year! They put in a couple of quarts of Du Pont "Zerone" early in the season for protection against rusting and sudden cold snaps.

When it gets really cold, they add enough "Zerone" for lower temperatures. A total of six quarts, put in as needed, can protect a car with an average size cooling system (15 quarts) for the entire winter. And six quarts of "Zerone" cost only $1.50!

You may need a little more or less, depending on the condition and capacity of your car radiator and the severity of winter in your neighborhood. But the efficiency of "Zerone" will save you real money.

"Zerone" prevents rust and corrosion, gives better dissipation of engine heat, avoids power losses. And remember, it's only $1.00 a gallon, 25¢ a quart.

Take Better Pictures

Catching Personality of Your Subject

This is the third of a series of five weekly articles on taking pictures.

* * *

By The Associated Press

Successful portraits tell something about the subject.

First thing to do when you've decided to make a portrait is to put down, mentally or on paper, a few observations about your prospective subject.

What are his favorite positions when sitting, standing or leaning—how does he use his hands?

Is it most characteristic of him to be silent and thoughtful or is he especially interesting to watch when he talks?

Perhaps he's a good listener, intent and responsive. If he has a hobby maybe you'll want to get him at work, doing something instead of just posing.

Having decided what you want to tell about your subject, you're ready to consider the means you'll use. These questions must be tackled in advance, because once you have camera in hand, and victim in front of you, you'll have plenty of things to think of—exposure, lighting and all the while the job of keeping your subject interested.

Use a Decoy

If you want him talking or listening you'll need a third person as conversational-decoy. You can't do it yourself, because operating the camera is job enough.

To stop the action of a person talking you need a shutter speed of 1-100 of a second. If your camera won't do that, you can't take that picture. If you can't get enough floodlight to shoot that just indoors you'll either have to use flashlight or make the picture outdoors.

FAVORITE POSITIONS, use of the hands—these are matters of vital importance in fixing the pose for a portrait.

As between making portraits indoors or out—the chances are that you'll get better results outdoors. Artificially lighting a subject is difficult and, consequently, one for the photographer who can spend time and money on experiment.

Use the Outdoors

There is no lighting so satisfactory as daylight, so work outdoors whenever possible. There's no reason why amateurs should make indoor portraits except when it's too cold to work outside.

Important technical details to keep in mind while taking portraits:

1. Choose a background that will not distract from your subject. Window frames, wall panels, lamps, leaves or trees or bushes highlighted by the sun, etc., make poor backgrounds. Plain flat surfaces are always safe.
2. Light the face so that it seems round. Avoid deep, black shadows. When working outdoors place your subject away from direct sunlight. It will make him squint or if it's directly overhead it will shadow his eyes. Open shade is best—the shadow area cast by a building for instance. Generally it's too dark under a tree. A bright day when sun is obscured is ideal for portraiture.
3. Consult an exposure table.

India's coming crop of jute may reach 12,000,000 bales, compared with slightly more than 10,000,000 bales in the last crop.

TWO PEACE TALKS SET FOR NETWORKS SATURDAY

Two peace talks are scheduled for the radio networks tomorrow.

Author Theodore Dreiser will speak at 4:45 p. m. over CBS on "Peace" and at 5:45 over the same network Dr. J. T. Shotwell will discuss "Proposals for Permanent Peace."

War news tonight—WEAF-NBC 7:15, 11:15; CBS 8:55 and 10:45; WJZ-NBC 9:30 and 10:30; MBS 10, 11:45 and 12:30; NBC 12 midnight.

MINNESOTA-MICHIGAN GAME BROADCAST SET

The long-awaited Minnesota-Michigan football game tomorrow at Minneapolis will be broadcast over WEAF-NBC and CBS at 2:45, with MBS picking up at about 4:30.

Other network broadcasts:

Navy-Notre Dame at 1:45 over MBS; Texas A. and M.-Southern Methodist at 3:15 over WJZ-NBC.

CONSERVATIONIST GIVES MARION CCC CAMP TALK

E. P. Reed, extension soil conservationist from Ohio State university spoke at a meeting of the civilian conservation corps advisory committee held Wednesday night at Camp Harding on Edison pike. He explained a legislative proposal, termed an "enabling act," which provides for the organization of a group of 25 or more landowners to form a conservancy district to carry on conservation work. He indicated that the bill, which in two previous presentations had not been passed in Ohio, would again be presented to the state legislature. He said similar legislation now is in effect in 40 other states. Twenty members of the advisory council attended the meeting.

EUROPEAN NEWS MAN TO TALK THURSDAY

E. C. Ramsey To Speak at Americanism Meeting.

E. C. Ramsey of Washington, D. C., European newspaper correspondent for the last 20 years, has accepted an invitation to speak at the public Americanism program which will be given next Thursday night at 7:30 at Central Junior High school.

Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162 of the American Legion is in charge of the program, which will be sponsored by the Marion Parent-Teacher association council.

Since it will be impossible to have Homer Chaillaux, national American chairman for the American Legion, here for a public program as was planned a year ago, it has been decided to have this program in its place. Mr. Chaillaux's speaking engagements for 1940-41 will make it impossible for him to appear here.

Mr. Ramsey returned five weeks ago from his latest assignment in Europe, that of living with an average family in each country he visited, getting the viewpoint of "the common people" on what is happening in Europe.

He will speak in the three junior high schools and at the Kiwanis luncheon Thursday and will remain overnight in Marion to give an address at Harding High school on Friday.

His talk at the public meeting Thursday night will be a comparison of the isms of Europe, Communism, Fascism and Nazism with the Democracies and will stress Americanism. At the Kiwanis luncheon he will speak on the personalities of Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin.

GERMAN REFUGEES WILL LEAVE GALION

GALION, Nov. 8—Some time toward the end of the month Galion's two German refugee physicians, Dr. Harry Geisler and his wife, Dr. Marianne Geisler, and their five and one-half-year-old son, Hans, will leave to practice in St. Marys, O.

Coming to the United States in March, 1938, because Dr. Geisler, who is a Jew, and his wife, a Catholic, could not practice their profession in Germany, they came to Ohio where they successfully passed the state medical board examination. Dr. Geisler and his wife were both educated at the University of Berlin.

At first they opened an office in the little town of Caesar, O., and then a year ago moved to Galion.

Letters from relatives in Germany come fairly fast, Mrs. Geisler said, since they are sent by airmail. Only the latter part of October she received a letter from her aged mother who lives in Berlin. Winter approaching, Mrs. Geisler said she didn't expect to hear from her mother for some time since every one has to go personally to the post office to mail any letters to a foreign country, and that it would be difficult for her mother to make the trip in bad weather.

Mrs. Geisler has a daughter by a former marriage, Brigitte Spiess, 19, who is attending the University of Chicago from which she received a scholarship following graduation from the Frances Parker school in Chicago.

SOCIETY DOES SEWING FOR CHILDREN'S HOME

Members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Wesley Methodist church sewed for the Methodist Children's home at Worthington in the morning session of an all-day meeting yesterday at the church. At noon a potluck fellowship dinner was served to 55. A new electric percolator, purchased by the society for the church kitchen, was used for the first time. Mrs. William Risch, Mrs. Minnie Starner, Mrs. Zula McCullough and Mrs. Harry Wilhelm were hostesses. The parlors were decorated with baskets of chrysanthemums and bouquets of garden flowers decorated the tables.

In the afternoon session Mrs. Caroline Shambaugh conducted devotions. Mrs. Henry Maag gave a reading and told of the various missionary stations throughout the world which are supported by Methodist women. Two piano selections were played by Mrs. Nate Shelton. Following reports of committee chairmen Margaret Dietsch sang a selection. Announcement was made that some time this month the Epworth league will sponsor a harvest festival at the church.

Bowling

Nu-Way Shoe Repairmen continued their blistering pace in Wednesday night's Recreation league, winning two of three games to extend their first place margin to five games. Robert Dissbennet posted a 265 game to help the Cobblers to top scores of 974 and 2,750. Only honor to escape the repairmen was for individual series total which went to Mathews of the Gulf Gasoline entry.

Federal Brake Service, pacesetters of the Ladies All Star B circuit, lost two of three games but held a two-game lead when the second-spot Sid Tennant's Dry Cleaners dropped three straight. The setbacks suffered by the leaders permitted May's Jewelry to edge into a tie for second place. Top scores were: Mrs. Grace Gunder 188 and 487. Anthony Laundry 673 and 1,857.

Pair in Car Theft Captured After Speedy Chase and Crash in Marion

Two youthful Springfield Negroes were captured by a state highway patrolman here this morning after a spectacular 85-mile-an-hour chase in the north section of the city. The chase ended when a stolen car in which the youths were riding got out of control and crashed into a tree.

Patrolman David Weissert of the Marion sub-station, who made the arrests, said the youths identified themselves as David Powell, 17, and John Halliburton, 19.

The chase started at the intersection of Routes 4 and 23 when Patrolman Weissert saw the Negroes in the car which had been reported stolen about an hour earlier at Attica. From the intersection, one mile north of Marion, Patrolman Weissert pursued the youths south on Main street to Wallace street at speeds estimated by the patrolman at 80 to 90 miles an hour.

Car Hits Tree

The Negroes, realizing they were being pursued, attempted to turn onto Wallace street but Halliburton, the driver, lost control of the car and it crashed into a tree at the southwest corner. Neither youth was hurt and Powell jumped out and fled.

Patrolman Weissert said the highway patrol cruiser nearly overturned when he attempted to bring it to a quick stop after the youths turned onto Wallace street. However, he was able to reach the stolen car in time to arrest Halliburton as he climed out of the wreckage. Turning Halliburton over to a passing motorist, whose name was not learned, Patrolman Weissert pursued Powell on foot between houses and across vacant lots from Wallace street to Fairground street. He finally captured him near the fairgrounds.

Evade Gasoline Bill

The patrol reported the car was stolen about 9:30 a. m. while parked at Attica. A few minutes later the youths allegedly failed to pay for gasoline at a filling station eight miles north of Attica on Route 4 an headed south again through Attica. The filling station attendant reported the incident to the state patrol, listing the license number and a description of the car. The report was broadcast over the state police radio set-up and Patrolman Weissert was assigned to watch the intersection of Routes 23 and 4 where the chase began.

Officers quoted the youths as saying they had been hitch-hiking fro Detroit to Sqringfield and decided to steal the car when they were unable to obtain a ride at Attica this morning. The patrolmen returned the pair to Seneca county to face auto theft charges.

D. OF A. COUNCIL PLANS PRESENTATION OF FLAGS

Paramount Council No. 37, Daughters of America, will present seven American flags to the Olney avenue school at an afternoon meeting of the school's Parent-Teacher association on Nov. 14, it was announced at a council meeting last night at which first nomination of officers was conducted.

Mrs. Edith Fox, chairman of the home fund, announced a benefit party the evening of Nov. 15 at the home of Mrs. G. E. Wilson of 518 North Prospect street. The council will take part in the Armistice day parade Monday night. Announcements were made of a meeting of Harmony circle on Nov. 19 with Mrs. Relva Hoch of Owens street, of a meeting of the Trotters club on Nov. 20 with Mrs. Edith Bailey of Roslyn place, and of a class initiation and anniversary meeting on Dec. 19. An invitation was accepted to a meeting in Ashland on Nov. 28. Three applications for membership were received.

The meeting was preceded by a 6 o'clock covered dish dinner honoring members having birthday anniversaries in October and November.

FINAL FUND DRIVE TOTAL IS $29,127

Agencies Receive First Money as Campaign Closes.

Final total for Marion's 1940 Community Fund campaign was announced today as $29,127, only $1,873 short of the $31,000 goal.

Leaders of the fund reported today that the solicitation has been halted and the campaign formally brought to a close. The total has been pro-rated among the five youth and welfare agencies—Salvation Army, Y.M.C.A., Boy and Girl Scouts and Girl Reserves—which have received the first of the 12 monthly payments to be paid them throughout the coming year. The fund's year runs from November to November.

The fund's executive committee is scheduled to meet soon to review the campaign and map plans for next year.

At a recent meeting of various key workers it was voted to publish the names of all subscribers to the fund in 1941, together with the amounts they give. This will include individuals, companies of various kinds and organizations.

The theory, tested and proven in many cities, is that such publication will serve to bring in more and larger gifts.

GARAGE WORKER SUFFERS SEVERE CUTS ON HAND

Albert Fowler, 27, of 237 Senate street, employed on the wash rack at the Midtown Chevrolet Co., suffered a badly lacerated left hand in a fall at noon today in the service department of the garage.

According to company officials he dropped a bottle of oil he was carrying. The bottle broke and in going to get a cloth to clean up the spilled oil and broken glass his rubber boots slipped in a pool of the oil and he fell, striking his hand on a piece of the glass. He was taken to City hospital for treatment of a badly cut index finger on his left hand. He was expected to remain at the hospital at least over night.

GROUPS AT Y. M. C. A. HAVE BUSY WEEK

Torch, Hi-Y and Gra-Y Club Activities Listed.

Boys' and girls' club of Marion Y. M. C. A. today were rounding out a full week of activities.

On Monday night four clubs met at the Y and Junior Hi-Y club discussed plans for a party to be held soon. John Rea, president, was in charge.

The seventh grade Torch club of Vernon Heights Junior High school held a potluck supper Tuesday at the Y, followed by a meeting in charge of Charles Winni, president. Arrangements were in charge of a committee headed by Jack Robbins.

The ninth grade Torch club met Tuesday and discussed plans for a hay ride.

Wednesday night State Highway Patrolman T. B. Morgan spoke to the Sophomore Hi-Y club. Patrolman Morgan urged that bicyclist observe the same traffic laws provided for automobile drivers. Keith Williams was in charge.

On Thursday afternoon 50 members of the Gra-Y girls' club held a shop period at the Y. Part of the group participated in games in the gymnasium.

Thursday morning Supt. E. E. Holt spoke at a devotional program at Central Christian church under the sponsorship of the Hi-Y clubs and the Girls Reserves of Harding High school. Devotional services are held each Thursday morning at the church at 7:40 o'clock for Harding High students and the public.

SAYS CHAMBERLAIN NOW GRAVELY ILL

LONDON, Nov. 8—Mrs. Neville Chamberlain, wife of the former prime minister, sent this message to the London press today: "Mr. Chamberlain's strength has been failing the last few days and he is now gravely ill."

Chamberlain, 71, is understood to be in the country, where he has been resting since his resignation Oct. 3 as lord president of the council. He resigned as prime minister last May 10, giving way to Winston Churchill the day Germany began her drive into the Lowlands and France.

Chamberlain underwent an abdominal operation July 20 for relief of symptoms of intestinal obstruction, but his recovery was described as satisfactory and after a short while he was back at his government post.

He has suffered attacks of gout in past years and the umbrella he carried for protection from England's weather became a symbol of his appeasement efforts.

BRITAIN GIVEN OK ON PLANE ORDERS

Will Be Permitted To Negotiate for 12,000.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 — The priorities board announced today that the British purchasing commission should be permitted to negotiate orders with the American aviation industry for an additional 12,000 planes.

The action was announced shortly after President Roosevelt told his press conference he had established rule of thumb policy whereby Britain and Canada would be supplied 50 per cent of American defense items now coming off factory lines, including large bombers and other things needed both here and abroad.

The 12,000 planes, the board said, will be built in existing plants and in other facilities now developing.

Great Britain already has orders in effect in this country for 14,000 planes, President Roosevelt said in his Boston campaign address last week. At the same time he had announced that Britain had asked permission to order 12,000 additional. He said then that he had asked the defense commission's priorities board to give "most sympathetic consideration" to the request.

The board said today it was intended, under plans now being devised, to gear construction of the British planes to American production in such a way as to prevent interference with American defense requirements.

"The question of delivery priorities is being studied," the board said in a brief formal statement. "They will be fixed at appropriate times as production progresses."

There was no announcement as to when the ships might be ready for delivery.

At his first press conference since he was elected to a third term, Mr. Roosevelt also reported that American and Mexican army officers have carried on conversations regarding joint defense similar to those with other Latin American countries.

The Chief Executive said that heretofore, in regard to defense items needed both by the United States and Great Britain, this country was selling to Britain about 45 per cent of our new production and retaining about 55 per cent here.

HITLER ORDERS RADIO ADDRESS CANCELLED

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—NBC today announced that a speech which Adolf Hitler was to have delivered over its blue network beginning at 1:15 p. m. today had been cancelled.

Announcement of the cancellation was made 23 minutes after the broadcast was to have started.

No reason was given. NBC's Berlin office advised that Hitler himself ordered the cancellation.

MBS also had planned to carry the broadcast, which was to have lasted an hour and 45 minutes.

CRASH

effects, all aboard the VASP plane were killed and 13 bodies already had been recovered.

The accident, one of the worst in Rio De Janeiro aviation history, occurred less than 10 minutes before the arrival of a Pan-American transport plane from Buenos Aires carrying an Argentine financial mission enroute to Washington.

VASP airlines began operations about three years ago with German planes and pilots. Recently it had been using Brazilian pilots and had acquired modern transports built in the United States. It operates two round trips daily between Rio De Janeiro and Sao Paulo, Brazil's second city.

SPEAKING CONTEST SET FOR SCHOOLS

High School Pupils in Area Invited To Take Part.

Plans were announced today for a speaking contest among high schools of Marion county and vicinity under joint sponsorship of the Marion Production Credit association and the Ohio State department of education.

Each high school in the Marion district, including Marion, Hardin, Wyandot, Crawford and Morrow counties, has been invited to enter one vocational agriculture student in the competition. An elimination contest will be held with two finalists competing for first and second prizes at the annual meeting of the Production Credit association in January.

First prize will be a three-day, all-expense trip to visit offices of the farm credit administration at Louisville, Ky. and second prize will be a Future Farmers of America jacket, those in charge announced.

The talks are to deal with some phase of sound short-term credit. The three-fold purpose of the contest, as outlined by association officials, is to provide training in public speaking, stimulate interest of F. F. A. members in farm credit problems and to place interesting information on current farm credit problems before the people.

Harding's N.C.O. League Title Hopes at Stake in Mt. Vernon Game Saturda

Injuries Still Handicap Presidents As Crucial Contest Draws Near.

Injuries among members of the backfield was still a bug-a-boo in the Marion Harding grid camp today as Coach Bill Williams reported he planned to nominate a squad of 25 players for tomorrow's important invasion of Mt. Vernon.

Harding's chances of sharing in the 1940 North Central Ohio conference title will be at stake against the Yellow Jackets. A victory will assure the Presidents of a share in the championship, similar honors being sought by Bucyrus and Shelby in contests scheduled for tonight.

Three of Williams' team, Day Hurst, Leo Belknap and Charles Roberts, are suffering from sprains and bruises. Of the trio Hurst is considered definitely out of the starting line-up because of a shoulder injury, while Belknap and Roberts may be available for service, Williams indicated.

The team will leave Marion in a chartered bus at 11:45. The kick-off is scheduled for 2:30. Several hundred Marion fans are expected to follow the team for the season's last league encounter.

Waite 'Welcomes' Board's Probe of Athletic Policy

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 8—Officials of Toledo Waite High school, admitted target of an inquiry into scholastic athletics in Toledo, today denied being involved in any irregularities and welcomed the investigation.

The probe was authorized by the Toledo board of education at the request of Elden Young, board member, who declared that Waite in particular is the "subject of rumors relating to alleged unethical conduct of athletic affairs."

Young did not amplify the "rumors" but his motion proposing the inquiry directed that they be studied to "correct the situation if true or to vindicate Waite officials if false."

Edward E. Evans, school board president, declared that the inquiry would not single out any one school but would include the athletic systems of all Toledo schools.

Philip K. Conser, Waite principal, asserted:

"We are not guilty of any infractions and those making such statements should be prosecuted."

Kenneth (Jack) Mollenkopf, Waite football coach, declared, "I want this investigation and I want it now."

SOROS

Somewhere around the turn of the century a unknown young man by the name of Fielding H. Yost turned up at Ohio Wesleyan university as a football coach.

He had no reputation, no "big name," nothing but ability and a lot of nerve and a burning ambition—to coach at the University of Michigan.

According to recollections of A. W. "Bert" Curtis of Marion, who played football for Delaware High school at the time, it was Yost's plan to make such a showing at Wesleyan that Michigan would take notice of him.

Yost wangled a game with Michigan and took his little Wesleyan team to Ann Arbor, determined to make a showing. Evidence that his team was "little" is found in the fact that he used the Delaware High school gridders as scrubs for scrimmage. Bert was among those scrubs.

"Well, he went up to Michigan for that game," Bert recalled. "And he played Michigan to a 0-0 tie. The next year he joined Michigan as a coach and as far as I know he's been there ever since."

Incidentally, to make sure that Wesleyan would make a showing against Michigan, Yost himself played a tackle position, Bert said.

"He just played in the first half, but he just about tore up the guy across from him."

HARMON AND FRANCK SET FOR SPEED DUEL

Gophers Stress Hustle To Keep Tom in Line.

By The Associated Press

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 8—Biggest excitement since they unveiled Ole Bull's statue prevailed at this pigskin metropolis today as Minnesota and Michigan got ready for their title flavored game Saturday.

Hotels, like the 64,000 capacity Minnesota stadium, have been sold out for several days.

Minnesota's hourse voiced supporters had things to say about Michiganders endeavoring to keep up with the speedy George Franck. "Sonny" actually is faster than Harmon but lacks by 30 pounds the punch that Wolverine Tommy possesses.

Coaches were even talking about this speed stuff — talking about it to their men. Bernie Bierman, Golden Gophers' coach, apparently is going in for the business of matching speed with speed. For he has been using swift Bill Daley, sophomore fullback, with the speed and heft of Harmon, in first string practice all week. Minnesota then may sacrifice some of the sock possessed by regular fullback, Bob Sweiger, two touchdown hero of the Northwestern game, to provide better insurance against Harmon running wild.

HARDING RESERVES BEAT JUNIOR HIGH ALL STARS, 19 TO 0

Coach Bill Williams Scans Rosters as Future Varsity Stars Perform.

Coach Bill William of Harding High school was probably the most interested of several hundred spectators on hand when Harding reserve gridders defeated the junior high All-Stars, 19-0, last night at Harding stadium.

The Harding mentor, noticeably pleased with what he saw, was getting a preview of the new material which will be available for his varsity line-up next season. He talked with next year's prospective sophomores after the game, inviting them to participate in a four-week practice session next spring.

Williams, after taking mental notes during the game, reported he anticipated getting a few replacements for his varsity roster from the athletes who were in action last night. He remarked that the All-Star squad showed weakness in lack of experience and knowledge of fundamentals.

These difficulties he pointed out probably will be surmounted by next spring's practice when newcomers will be subjected to a rigorous training schedule to include blocking, tackling, passing punting and ball-lugging. Junior high players, with the few exceptions, probably are due for a year's service on the Harding jayvee squad before making a definite bid for varsity berths.

Coach Howard Hoffman's junior Presidents racked up three touchdowns, all of them scored by Halfback Jenkins. The first pair came on off-tackle drives starting from the 10 and 15-yard lines. Both were set-up by long field marches.

Showing a bit of versatility, the Harding reserves dipped into their aerial tricks for the third touchdown, scoring fom the 10-yard line on a Hurst-to-Jenkins pass. Hurst added the extra point after the initial touchdown by a kick from placement.

Line-ups for last night's game, with initials in parenthesis after names of All-Star team members designating the school which they represent, follow:

LaRance-Savoldi To Tra Grips in Monday Rassle Sh

Wrestling will resume its spot on Marion's weekly sports card next Monday night following a lay-off last week because of the conflict with election eve activity.

A double main go, featuring junior heavyweight grapplers in scheduled 90-minute bouts, rounde dout by a 20-minute preliminary, is the offering cooked up by wrestling promoters, Markert & Lewis.

Pairings for the bouts are:

Jules LaRance, Canadian title claimant, versus Angelo Savoldi of Three Oaks, Mich.

John Silvey of Hamilton, Ont., versus Harold Chaundy of Detroit, Mich.

Monday will bring another observance of "ladies night," promoters extending the courtesy of the house to feminine fans.

The LaRance-Savoldi battle goes on as the final bout. Jules has been here several times recently. A consistent winner, he meets a newcomer to the Marion mat, when he takes the corner opposite Savoldi. The Michigan tussler recenty whipped Oregon McDonald and has a reputation for rough and rugged scrapping.

Second of the featured matches brings the return of another Canadian who recently gained the distinction of defeating two foes during the course of a single show. He is John Silvey, who two or three weeks back, defea Perkins of Detroit in a match. Then he stepped semi-windup to take the of Walter Stratton of Youn

Football Saturday, Movies Sunday - - That's Snavely's Victory Formula

(Editors Note: Unbeaten through two seasons, Cornell, coached by Carl Snavely, today is one of the top football teams of the country. The reason: star material and a star coach. Many experts rank Snavely as the best coach in the land. The following is the second of two articles presenting a word picture of the coach and his methods.)

* * *

By BILL BONI

Associated Press Sports Writer

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 8 — To paint a complete picture of the football coaching organization which Carl Snavely has brought to football prominence at Cornell it is as important to see this slim, slightly gray-haired man with the piercing blue eyes at work off the field as it is on.

Having played a game on Saturday his players the next day go to "Sunday School"—not the kind where they hear Bible texts, though they may do that, too, but a session in which the coaches review with them the previous day's game and the more obvious faults which cropped up.

That is only the beginning.

Sunday night, and from then on for most of the week whenever they have any spare time, Snavely and his staff go over the movies of that game.

SNAVELY

The movies, incidentally, are the reason why the "Big Red" isn't red any more. Except for such rare instances as the Ohio State game, in which the Buckeyes crossed him up by bringing cast only their white jerseys, Cornell wears white. It shows up better in the pictures.

From the study of those movies, Snavely drafts his squad letters. These are something unique, unlike anything we've ever seen before.

They show, too, that Snavely is far more outspoken with his players than with the press, which has painted him as a charter member of the crying towel club, as cold and hard to approach.

It's His Business

He is shy, he probably feels coaching a team is his business and no one else's.

His players not only have great respect for him but also great friendship, and they say that out of season he's just as easy to get along with as the next man.

But to return to his outspokenness to the squad—before the Ohio State game he was openly pessimistic whenever asked how he thought his team would go. In the squad letter that week, however, appears this flat statement:

"Frankly, I believe we will win the game—but win or lose it is not a matter of life or death, and if we play a creditable game I will be satisfied and all sensible Cornellians the world over will be satisfied."

His squad letters during the season—they continue at less regular intervals throughout the calendar year—ususlly begin with generalities and about the game just past and the game to come.

Having disposed of the team performance on defense, Snavely then attacks the problem man-for-man, eminently fair in his dealing with the boys by letter as he is on the field.

Examples:

A Few Instances

"Landsberg—You played too deep, especially when the opponents got down close to our goal line....In general, however, your work was above average.

"McCullough—You are rather slow to get up to the line of scrimmage on a couple of end runs, but when you did come up you came up in good position and met the plays well."

And such detailed criticisms as:

"Matuszczak—On one Syracuse line buck on which they made a first down, after you diagnosed the play you moved into the line at half speed to meet it and as you met the runner you turned your head away from him, with the result that he pivoted away from you and made his distance."

When Snavely, talking into his dictaphone for as much as seven long, single-spaced sheets to a letter, gets through with the defense he pays the same detailed attention to the Cornell offense.

The man eats, sleeps, lives football.

In the summer months he spends much of his time at coaching schools. From these he sends other squad letters—instructions to the boys on how to keep fit (they also get written advice from Trainer Kavanagh) and new theories of play which he has heard from his colleagues. Some of them include examinations on tactical problems, with the answers in the coach's subsequent letter.

Not Easy To Know

Snavely is not an easy man to know, but those close to him swear by him. His fellow-coaches don't hesitate to rate him one of the best, and Mose Simms of St. Mary's of Texas, where Snavely was dean of a coaching school last summer, calls him the best and adds:

"Hell, compared with that guy, I'm just blowing up footballs and sitting on the bench."

As for his players, perhaps, Hal McCullough's comment expresses it best. After Cornell's surprise victory over Ohio State a year ago, the boys were coming back from Columbus, and some one asked McCullough what he'd thought of the game.

"Boy, what material," said Snavely's triple-threat back. "What the coach could do with material like that!"

What Snavely will do next year, with the material he has then, may be something else again, for graduation will cost him 18 of his first 22 men, including all 11 starters against Ohio State. On the players who have seen comparatively extensive duty, he'll get back Bufalino and Ken Stofer in the backfield, Kenkins at end and Pete Wolff at guard.

But they say there are some good boys coming up from the freshman team. With those, and his remarkable skill for making misfits into 60 - minute men, Snavely and his assistants may carry on into 1941 the unbeaten streak which should stand at 19 after Cornell plays Penn Nov. 23.

Crestline Gridder Helps OSU Frosh Scare the Varsity

Bob Frye, Crestline fullback, was among the yearlings turning in promising performances yesterday as Ohio State university's frosh scared the Buckeye varsity in their annual battle.

The regulars won by the slim margin of one touchdown, 20-13.

Frye was in the starting lineup for the freshmen. A scholastic star, when he teamed with Phil Gunni, now a freshman prospect at Ohio university, he is expected to land a place on the varsity squad next season.

Johnny August of Shadyside was the individual star for the freshmen. He put together two runs of 16 yards and 26 yards on the last two plays of the game to give the frosh their second score.

The frosh went into a second period scoring splurge which netted 13 points and almost tied the score with a 35-yard pass which the receiver dropped in the end zone.

A wealth of material for the 1941 Buckeye squad was exhibited by Freshman Coach Fritz Mackey, including the outstanding All-Ohio high school football and basketball star, Paul Sarringhaus, husky Hamilton, O., halfback.

Sarringhaus not only threw the pass which would have knotted the game but exhibited a fine brand of broken field running in reeling off huge gains against the varsity.

Barker Favors Minnesota, Stanford, Fordham, Irish, Nebraska, Wisconsin

By HERB BARKER

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—Taking another crack at the football guessing game with no money refunded cheerfully or otherwise:

Minnesota-Michigan: Might decide the Western conference title in this one, particularly if Minnesota wins. No unbeaten team in the land has waded through quite such a schedule as the Gophers. They must hold Tommy Harmon within reasonable bounds to get by undefeated Michigan. By the toss of a coin, Minnesota.

Southern Methodist-Texas A. and M.: The Mustangs are plenty tough and might break Texas A. and M.'s long string but this corner prefers to string along with the Aggies.

Stanford-Washington: Maybe this is where the Indians get off but we'll tag along with Stanford to the bitter end.

Cornell-Yale: Should be batting practice for the Big Red. Cornell.

Fordham-Purdue: The Boilermakers are unlucky and Mike Byelene may not be in shape for much service, influencing this vote for Fordham.

Columbia-Wisconsin: In a deep fog. Wisconsin.

Navy-Notre Dame: Taking Notre Dame on the theory the Irish can't be as bad as they looked last week.

Alabama-Tulane: Out of the hat, Alabama.

Penn-Harvard: Penn.

Princeton-Dartmouth: Taking Princeton.

Army-Brown: A doubtful vote for Army.

Holy Cross-Mississippi: Mississippi.

Manhattan-Marquette: Manhattan.

Northwestern-Illinois: Northwestern.

Nebraska-Iowa: Nebraska.

Detroit-Texas Christian: By the coin, Detroit.

Indiana-Michigan State: An extremely shaky vote for Michigan State.

Florida-Georgia: Georgia.

Kentucky-Georgia Tech: Tech seems to have collapsed. Kentucky.

Louisiana State - Mississippi State: Stringing along with the Mississippians.

Furman-Virginia Tech: In a complete dither, Furman.

Richmond - North Carolina: North Carolina.

Duke-Davidson: Duke.

North Carolina State-Wake Forest: Wake Forest.

South Carolina-Kansas State: A flier on South Carolina.

Virginia - Washington & Lee: Virginia.

Kansas-Oklahoma: Oklahoma.

Colorado-Missouri: Missouri.

Tulsa-Catholic: Tulsa.

Texas-Baylor: Still Texas.

Arkansas-Rice: Arkansas.

Southern California-California: Southern California should be thoroughly rested and gets the nod here.

Oregon-U. C. L. A.: U. C. L. A. Finally should win one.

Oregon State-Washington State: Oregon State.

Maryland-Georgetown: Unbeaten Georgetown.

Pitt-Carnegie: Pitt should take this one.

Rutgers-Lafayette: Lafayette.

Syracuse-Penn State: Penn State.

Temple-Villanova: Villanova.

New York University-Franklin & Marshall: F. and M.

Also: Boston college over Boston university; Iowa State over Drake; Vanderbilt over Sewanee; Tennessee over Southwestern (Tennessee); William & Mary over Randolph Macon; Washington University over Virginia Military; Utah over Wyoming; Denver over Brigham Young; Colorado State over Utah State; George Washington over Bucknell; Williams over Wesleyan.

ASHLAND SEEKS WIN

ASHLAND, O., Nov. 8—Ashland college gridders sought their first victory of the season today against little Rio Grande college which has failed to score a point in four games and tying one. The contest is the only one of the day involving Ohio college teams.

P. K. WANTS TO QUIT

CHICAGO, Nov. 8—Philip K. Wrigley, confessing he started to learn the baseball business too late, wants someone to take his job as president of the Chicago Cubs. The club owner disclosed yesterday that he had offered the presidency to Charles (Boots) Weber and that the latter had declined it.

Boston Wool
By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Nov. 8—Very little interest was being shown in domestic wools on the Boston market today. Only occasional sales were reported on moderate quantities of fine fleeces, apparently needed to complete existing contracts. Asking prices of fine domestic wools were maintained firmly, but some houses were lowering their asking prices on the medium grades of wool.

PROFIT TAKERS CHECK RALLY

Most Leaders Lose Tendency To Advance as Selling Increases.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 — Profit takers descended on the stock market in force today and most leaders lost their rallying verve of the preceding session.

Prices were slightly higher at the opening. Selling then cropped up and the ticker tape was three minutes behind for a while as blocks of 1,000 to 5,000 shares changed hands. The pace then slowed and, near the fourth hour, declines of fractions to a point or so were plentiful.

While inflationary thinking was still widespread as the result of the treasury move to lift the national debt limit, brokers said, the treasury upturn, biggest since the September war boom of 1939, inspired many traders to cash in their winnings.

U. S. government securities mounted to new record tops and corporate loans improved. Commodities were moderately higher.

In the stock division U. S. Steel, Crucible and Pennsylvania hit new year's highs at the start, then backed away. Inclined to waver also were Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Douglas Aircraft, Consolidated Edison, Texas Corp., New York Central, J. I. Case and Kennecott.

The Stars Say—

For Saturday, Nov. 9

SPLENDID opportunities for those seriously ambitious to attain worthwhile objectives are shown by auspicious planetary directions. This definite advance upon high goals may be indicated by promotion, preferment, other manifestations of confidence and esteem from employers superiors and others in influential positions.

Those whose birthday it is may be assured of a year of excellent opportunities for putting over their cherished programs mainly through industry, application and sound objectives which arrest the attention of employers, superiors or others in power, who are disposed to offer signs of appreciation preferment favors and promotions.

A child born on this day may have excellent mentality, force and energy with many sterling qualities to assist it with those of prestige and influence. Hard work, sound ideas and enterprise assure it enduring success in life.

Daily Pattern for Home Use

By ANNE ADAMS

YOUNG BASQUE PEPPER JUMPER

PATTERN 1609

Whether you're a school girl or a hard-working career girl, this vivacious Anne Adams Jumper style will appeal to you. For Pattern 3609 is disarmingly young from its pinafore type back bodice buttoning to its basque-effect front complete with optional lacings and a pointed waistline. The slim handspan waist is accented by the jaunty flare of the skirt. The pattern includes a fresh little blouse that may have long full sleeves or short puffed sleeves perhaps trimmed by perky bows to match the fabric or ribbon facings on the jumper. Stitch up this jumper in wool in corduroy or in velveteen and make several blouses—say one in a new patriotic print another in a soft crepe.

Pattern 1609 is available in junior miss sizes 11 12 13 14 15 16 and 17. Size 13 jumper takes 1¾ yards 54-inch fabric blouse 1⅛ yards 35-inch contrast.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly size, name, address and style number.
